Sentencing Of Keyes And Others Continued To Feb. 19

NEW TRIAL ARGUMENTS NOT HEARD

Postponement Is Ordered That Judge Who Presided Able to Sit on Bench GETZOFF SEES KEYES Defense Attorneys Claim They Have Received Letters Containing Threats

BULLETIN
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio man of Angelus temple who once was accused of having lived at Carmel-by-the-Sea with Alvin Karpis, appeared before the senate today before the senate group investigating the payment of $2500 by the evangelist to Superior Judge Carlos Hardy.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Arguments on a new trial for former District Attorney Asa Keyes, Ed Rosenberg and Ben Getzoff, convicted of conspiracy to bribe in connection with the Julian Petroleum trial, were continued today until February 19. The trio will be sentenced at the same time. The postponement was ordered by Superior Judge Hartley Shaw in order that Superior Judge Edward I. Butler, who presided at the trial, might return from Marin county to hear the arguments.

The court action brought Keyes and Getzoff together for the first time since the latter confessed to his part in the Julian bribery and implicated Keyes in that and other similar plots.

The pair made no sign of recognition when they were in court. After the brief hearing, Le Compte Davis, William Belne and Al McDonald, attorneys for Rosenberg, Keyes and Getzoff, announced they received threatening letters signed by "the committee of 100," the attorneys said the letters would be disregarded.

The story of corruption in the district attorney's office during the regime of Asa Keyes, as told by Ben Getzoff, Springfield street tailor, was to undergo the most rigid tests today.

Special investigators were to report whether Getzoff's tale was substantial and corroborated, in which event, District Attorney Euron Pitts was to take the tailor before the grand jury to seek indictments against seven prominent Los Angeles figures.

The investigators, working since Getzoff confessed to being imple-

GERMANY ASKS ADVICE FROM PARIS MEETING

Dr. Carl Melchior Presents Case to Delegates at Allied Conclave

BY WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Germany continued presenting evidence of her contention of incapacity to pay present reparations today before the senate group investigating the payment of $2500 by the evangelist to Superior Judge Carlos Hardy.

Dr. Carl Melchior, German alternate, stressed the serious adverse trade balance of Germany and also the insufficient industrial returns on Germany's foreign loans. He described the general effect of Dawes plan payments on German industry and banking. At this point, the Allied delegates bombarded Dr. Melchior with questions.

It appeared the Germans have arrived at a point where, as business men, they frankly were asking the conference for advice.

The Germans have not specifically claimed that the situation is pessimistic, nevertheless, they have endeavored to indicate as much by describing an unfavorable trade situation.

The conference replied by adjourning until the afternoon session, enabling the delegates to discuss the situation among themselves and also to enable the Germans to assemble more definite details which they plan to offer at tomorrow morning's meeting.

The subjects which the Allied experts were anxious to have discussed in greater detail include Germany's productivity, the actual status of per capita wealth in Germany, and industrial returns on foreign loans.

The Allies particularly want to ascertain the exact percentage of foreign loans applied to industry and what percentage has been invested in public works and bane-ning needs.

Grand Jury Takes Up Dismissal Of Sheriff Traeger

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(UP)—The grand jury was to meet today to determine if an accusation will be brought against Sheriff William Traeger demanding his removal from office for permitting Albert Marco, vice baron, "unusual" jail privileges.

Marco, held without bond pending his appeal to conviction on a charge of assault with intent to murder, was allowed to leave the jail without a court order. The jury previously asked the suspension of deputy sheriffs who took Marco out but Traeger assumed responsibility for the act.

HOOVER TO BE ON ROAD MUCH DURING REIGN

Believed President Elect Will Make Many Visits In Next Four Years

By THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14.—(UP)—Herbert Hoover probably will set a new presidential traveling record during his administration.

He probably has traveled as much since his election last November as most presidents do in their entire time in the White House, his South American trip covering 18,000 miles.

He came to Florida and has added another thousand.

He is preparing today to pull up stakes again for a two day automobile trip inspecting the Everglades flood district about Lake Okechobee, beginning tomorrow; he will leave early next week, probably Tuesday, on his return to Washington.

A good deal of the president-elect's traveling has been by boat. He is an excellent sailor and loves the sea. "Join Hoover and see the world," one of his attaches said recently, paraphrasing the marine slogan.

During his administration, Mr. Hoover not only is expected to break all presidential traveling records, but to shatter the precedent, which Woodrow Wilson broke to go to Paris, that a president of the United States should not leave the country.

This old injunction has begun to disappear, and will go entirely when Mr. Hoover becomes president.

Before he has been in office a year, he is likely to be setting out on a trip to the West Indies and Mexico, visiting those points that he missed on his recent Latin-American tour.

California, his home, will see much of him as president. He probably will spend a part of each year there. For his vacations, he will go west and also south. He has been planning a trip to Texas, a state which proved friendly to him in the election.

The president elect was to have as a visitor today the "Lindbergh of China," the young aviator Tien Lai-Yuang.

BRITISH GUNBOAT ON ROCKS OFF CHINA

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(UP)—An Exchange telegraph dispatch from Hong Kong reported today that the British gunboat Moth had struck Webster rock in the West river, 18 miles below Wuchow.

The gunboats Tarantula and Moor Hen were steaming to the rescue.

TIJUANA TAXI DRIVER FACES PRISON TERM

Governor of Lower Mexico Probes Story of Attack On American Girl

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 14.—(UP)—With Jose Jimenez, Tijuana taxi driver held in the Tijuana jail incommunicado and under heavy guard as the result of assault and robbery charges filed against him by Mrs. Ruby Ramsey, of Tulsa, Okla., Gov. Abelardo Rodriguez of Lower California today started a personal investigation of the case.

Alfonso Pelagrin, secretary to Rodriguez, arrived here late yesterday by airplane from Seattle and was in Tijuana today conducting the governor's inquiry.

He was closed this morning with L. J. Garcia, federal district attorney for Lower California and later was to interview Mrs. Ramsey and Jimenez.

Tijuana officials indicated today that with the corroborating testimony of W. H. Weseman, Los Angeles, Mrs. Ramsey's companion in Tijuana, conviction of Jimenez is assured.

Without Weseman's testimony, Garcia said, he believes the case strong enough that he has recommended at least six years exile on a penal colony for Jimenez.

Search for Weseman in Los Angeles has been unsuccessful and unless he appears voluntarily to aid Mrs. Ramsey, Mexican officials say they will be unable to force him to do so.

Judge Urias, who three years ago handled the notorious Petot case trial, has until Saturday to pass judgment on the evidence before him in Mrs. Ramsey's case.

"Ordinarily the court would handle the entire thing," Judge Urias said today, "but the very seriousness of this case renders that action impossible. I shall call a jury trial."

Jimenez, it was learned, still maintains his innocence of Mrs. Ramsey's charges.

"They didn't pay me," he shouted at District Attorney Garcia when taken before that official yesterday.

This is a serious charge," the Mexican taxi driver was told. "I don't care. They didn't give me my fare. They told me to wait and didn't come back. I want my fare," the taxi driver continued stubbornly.

Jimenez is not a member of the Tijuana association of taxi drivers and works for an organization known as "the outlaws."

ARIZONA EPIDEMIC BELIEVED CHECKED

76 Below Is Registered In Poland Today

Between 10,000 and 20,000 Have Died During Past Four Months

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Intense cold paralyzed Europe today, causing death and suffering over the whole continent. A serious fuel and food shortage occurred in several sections, transportation systems were hampered severely and it was feared the ratio of deaths would mount unless relief came.

Such widespread cold has never been known before. A temperature of 76 below zero was reported in Poland. Only once in history has a lower temperature been recorded on earth. That was in north central Siberia, where it was 90 below in 1917.

Between 10,000 and 20,000 died during the past four months from disease, accidents and shipwrecks resulting from the cold, and from freezing. More than 8000 deaths were attributed to influenza, grippé and pneumonia.

Fifty persons collapsed with frozen ears, hands and feet when 10,000 assembled to receive a small ration of free coal, a Central Radio dispatch from Budapest said.

All Berlin schools except those in poor districts were ordered closed for a week by city authorities to conserve fuel. The poorer class schools will remain open to provide warm rooms.

A supply of food and rum was dropped to the steamer Sayn, frozen in the Baltic sea, from an airplane yesterday. Other planes were sent to Trieste island to drop drinking water to the Hamburg children's sanitarium, where the food supply is insufficient.

Cannes, on the French Riviera, was struck by a storm leaving six inches of snow and freezing weather.

A gypsy, his wife and their three young children went from house to house at Trina, Slavonia, begging for shelter from the cold Tuesday night, Belgrade dispatches said. The five were found frozen to death in a field near Trina yesterday.

French officers of the army of occupation at Landau, Bavaria, withdrew all possible sentries when 40 collapsed on duty and another died from the first time since 1758 the lagoons and canals of Venice were ice covered.

Zero temperatures were reported from Berlin and Danzig and 17 below zero from Breslau.

The German battleship Schleswig-Holstein, continuing its attempts to rescue icebound ships in the Baltic sea, was rammed by the August-Thyssen, which it had approached to aid. The damage was not believed extensive.

President-Elect Accepts Angling Club Membership

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Tom O. Jay is in receipt of a letter accepting for Herbert Hoover the honorary membership voted him last month by the Balboa Angling club.

The letter signed by George Akerson, assistant to Hoover, follows: "Mr. Herbert Hoover accepts with pleasure the honorary membership in the Balboa Angling club. At the present time he is in Florida engaged in the pastime of tending big fish. Without my telling you, you know of his interest in the purposes of your club."

Harry Hyde, the secretary of the organization, has received a communication stating that if President Coolidge makes a contemplated trip to the Pacific coast, he will be glad to accept the Balboa club's hospitality.

EFFORT STARTED TO RESCUE MAN BURIED ALIVE 46 YEARS IN WORST PRISON ON EARTH

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW United Press Staff Correspondent Copyright, 1929, by United Press

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 14.—(UP)—An effort to rescue a man buried for 46 years in the "worst prison on earth" was begun here today. The man is Paul Lamont, a citizen of Belgium and a former master of languages at London university. The prison is Devil's Island and its associated penal colony of St. Laurent de Maroni, in French Guiana.

Six years ago Lamont, now 74 years of age, had finished a 40-year sentence for forgery and was a free man. Today he is more surely a prisoner than at any time during his 40 years of servitude, according to a report by the Belgian ambassador at Washington by W. E. Allison-Booth, American, who himself has just returned from the French penal settlements.

Allison-Booth landed in Los Angeles after shipping half way around the globe in order to get back to the United States.

He was second officer on a supply steamer plying between New York and the tropic prison colonies. On his last trip from the United States to Devil's Island and St. Laurent he was left behind at the latter point, and spent three months awaiting the arrival of the next steamer.

During his three months at St. Laurent he became acquainted he said, with many of the thousands of men who are "not allowed to live, not allowed to die" in the equatorial prisons, including, according to his statement, Paul Lamont.

Lamont's plight so touched him, Allison-Booth said, that immediately upon reaching Los Angeles he sent the following letter to the Belgian ambassador:

"I have just returned from the French penal settlement of St. Laurent de Maroni, and I feel it my duty to call your attention to the pitiable case of a citizen of your country.

"This man, Paul Lamont by name, has been at the settlement for 46 years, during the last six of which he has been a free man. However, owing to the French government making no arrangement for the return of prisoners after completing sentences, he has been in abject poverty and near starvation for six years and has no prospect of ever being released from the civilized world before he dies."

"This man is 78 years of age. He was formerly a professor of languages in a European university, and has retained his fine academic mind in spite of the horrors of the past 46 years.

"During the past six years, since his freedom, he has kept alive by doing small tasks for the Chinese storekeepers."

"I am an American citizen, second officer on a steamer calling at St. Laurent with supplies, and in this capacity I made contact with Paul Lamont and obtained details

COURT ACTION IN MELLUS CASE LOOMS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Court action involving the husband and mother of Mrs. Myrtle P. Mellus, killed by Leo Pat Kelley, her butcher boy lover during a love tryst, loomed today following a move to admit the slain woman's will to probate.

Frank H. Mellus, the husband, contended in his petition that the estate was bequeathed to him and was valued at less than $1000. Mrs. Eva Cleveland, of Long Beach, mother of Mrs. Mellus, filed a petition several days ago stating that the estate amounted to $20,000 and asked that she be placed in charge. She claimed that no will had been found.

Mellus, however, revealed a will dated Jan. 31, 1924, and claimed the right to be named executor.

SAN QUENTIN, Feb. 14.—(UP)—With less than 24 hours of life allotted to him, Edgar Lapierre, slayer of an Oakland policeman, today calmly awaited the march to the gallows tomorrow.

For the last time Lapierre saw his wife, herself an inmate of the state prison, and three-year-old daughter yesterday. With firm tread the doomed man turned away after the last farewell.

As he strode toward the death cell his wife called to him: "Be brave! Be brave!" Then Lapierre marched on to spend his last few hours of life in the grim chamber.

Slayer Calm As Time For Death On Gallows Nears

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Gen. L. W. Bramwell Booth, deposed as head of the Salvation Army, shorn of all power and retired with the empty title of general, may still fight to retain control of the world-wide religious organization.

Booth was adjudged unfit by a vote of 55 to 2 by the army's high council yesterday and Commissioner Edward J. Higgins, chief of staff, was elected to succeed him.

It was reported today that the general's counsel was considering immediate application to the courts to challenge the validity of the supplementary charter of 1904, which gave the high council power to remove the commander-in-chief in case of unfitness for office.

VICTIMS ARE KILLED WITH NO WARNING

Lined Up Against Wall and Nipped Off By Experts With Sawed-off Guns SLAYERS MAKE ESCAPE

Raid Said to Be Most Daring in Long History of Windy City Gang Feuds

CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Two automobile loads of gangsters invaded a car garage company warehouse on the North side today, lined up six men against a wall and shot all to death with sawed-off shot guns.

Shortly before noon the two machines stopped in front of the S. M. C. Garage Co., and several gangsters leaped from their cars and invaded the warehouse.

First reports reaching police headquarters said they lined up the occupants of the building and without giving them a chance, shot six down.

Every available police reserve was ordered to the scene of the outbreak.

One of the dead was said to have been identified as Pete Gusenberg, a lieutenant of George "Bugs" Moran, North side beer rival of the famous Alvin Karpis. Pete's brother, Frank, was wounded.

The raid was one of the most daring in the long history of Chicago gang feuds. The two car loads of raiders drew up in front of the garage shortly before noon, leaped out and entered the garage.

Then the roar of sawed off shotguns was heard. Persons in the neighborhood said they thought there had been an explosion in the building.

A few minutes later half a dozen or more gangsters raced out of the garage, took their places in the two automobiles and sped away. The victims were said to have been treated in the usual gang manner, shot down without a chance to defend themselves.

Every available squad car at the detective headquarters was pressed into action and raced north through the loop with screaming sirens.

When the police arrived on the scene they found everyone who was in the garage at the time of the raid had been shot, presumably lined up against the wall as though for execution by an official firing squad.

Others among the identified dead were:

James Clark, a brother-in-law of "Bugs" Moran, and owner of the garage.

Arthur Hayes, said to be a former state representative.

Frank Foster, a truck driver.

Al Weinsbaks.

The garage where the shooting occurred is an unimposing structure in the 2300 block on North Clark street, or about 13 blocks north of the Chicago loop. The lower half of the building had been painted so that passersby could not see inside.

Several of the victims appeared to have attempted to run after being shot but none of them got far. The body of Pete Gusenberg lay under a sink and nearby was the form of his brother Frank, who was badly wounded and may die. Ambulance physicians said he was in no condition to be questioned about the shooting.

Wall Pitted
The north wall of the garage, against which the victims were believed to have been lined up, was pitted with shotgun bullets, which spread into a large pattern after leaving the sawed off barrels of the guns. On the floor were 50 ma-

The accusation was viewed by newspapers here today as the most significant political development of the past week.

LINDBERGH AND FIANCEE KEEP PLANS SECRET

Even Parents of Bride-to-Be Do Not Know When Wedding to Be Held

By GESFORD F. FINE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Miss Anne Spencer Morrow apparently are the only persons who know when they are going to get married and where, and they are keeping their own counsel.

Persistent efforts to get information about the young couple's plans resulted in the discovery that even Ambassador and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, parents of the bride-to-be do not know of the date of the wedding.

The great publicity given to the announcement of their engagement led to speculation on whether Lindbergh and Miss Morrow might not attempt to get married without advance notice in some out of the way place where crowds could not annoy them.

On the other hand, those who expect the wedding to be in Mexico City pointed out that it would be a popular diplomatic move, as the ambassador is regarded highly here and Mexico City is intensely interested in the wedding.

Miss Morrow continued to experience today the penalty of fame which Lindbergh has known so well since he flew from New York to Paris.

Cables and telegrams poured into the Morrow home in increasing quantities from Mexico, the United States and abroad. Many were from persons unknown either to Lindbergh or the Morrrows.

HUGE PLANE PLANT, AIRPORT ASSURED

PASADENA, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Plans for the construction of a modern airport and the location of the main factory of the $4,000,000 Fokker Aircraft company here were being carried on rapidly today following acceptance by the city council of the $517,000 bid by Western Air express for the 188-acre municipal farm south of Alhambra.

Officials of the Western Air express, by which the tract will be developed, stated that no expense would be spared in making this one of the best equipped and most modern airports in the world.

It is planned to make the new field the terminus for all Western Air express traffic in this section. Planes will arrive and depart from the port over a network of air lines, including those from Salt Lake City, Utah, Kansas City and Albuquerque, Tijuana, Catalina island and San Francisco.

Board Adopts Ordinance Aimed At Unruly Dance Halls

'CLOSE SUNDAY' ORDER OF LAW IS ELIMINATED

Eliminating the Sunday closing feature, the board of supervisors today had adopted a dance hall ordinance for Orange county which provides for midnight closing, licensing, brilliant lighting and other regulations for public dances outside incorporated cities.

The ordinance, which will become effective within 30 days, also requires that all minors shall be accompanied by their parents when attending public dances, dance halls and public dancing clubs. It further provides that dancing is prohibited in places where dancing is indulged in by guests without paying cover charges or other fees to the management.

According to the new ruling, all dance halls must be closed between midnight and 6 a. m. Women dancing teachers may not receive pay for instruction or acting as partners, nor may they give instruction in private booths or rooms.

District Attorney Z. B. West Jr., drafted the ordinance at the board's request and presented it at yesterday's session. Penalty for violation is a $500 fine or six months in the county jail or both.

The board yesterday refused to grant a license to operators of a dance hall in La Jolla, which is alleged to have been conducted in a questionable manner.

EFFORT STARTED TO RESCUE MAN BURIED ALIVE 46 YEARS IN WORST PRISON ON EARTH

of his case. I am laying this information before you simply because I believe that this Belgian national has earned the right to return to the outside world."

Makes Escape

Booth said he is one of the few men ever to come away alive from the place. Dreyfus, central figure in what was possibly the most widely discussed international "cause celebre," was another. Yet another was Dieudonne, the Frenchman who was pardoned not long ago after he had thrice escaped and twice been recaptured. Both these men were found innocent and restored to their homes. Lamont, however, Booth points out, is no longer even a ward of the French prison authorities. He lives on the doles he can earn from Chinese storekeepers, which never amount to more than enough to buy a little bread.

In an exclusive interview with the United Press, Booth told of some of the things he saw and heard and did—including incidents which cost him eight days in a dungeon, and came near making his stay at St. Laurent permanent.

"It is commonly supposed," Booth said, "that Devil's Island is the penal settlement. This is not so. The 'Rock,' as it is termed, is but a sort of receiving station. Here the prisoners are given a period of solitary confinement. When they are thoroughly disciplined and their spirits completely broken, they are transferred to one of the settlements, the principal being St. Laurent."

"To get to St. Laurent you have to steam 40 miles up the sluggish Maroni river. On each side is dense jungle. Monkeys chatter in the trees. Parrots screech overhead. A regiment of men could be a hundred feet away without giving any trace."

"When the ship is tied up at the wooden jetty, convicts are marched aboard by the guards to unload it. They are the most hopeless men in the universe, for escape through the jungle is almost impossible, and there is scarcely a chance in a million that they will ever see France again."

"For after they have served their sentences they must do another equal amount of time as 'preventative detention,' after which they are free to get away if they can pay their passage. But as they are not allowed to have money while prisoners and as St. Laurent offers them no way of making more than the tiniest pittance by labor after they are free, there is almost no hope."

"Escapes are so rare that when they are accomplished they are world wide news stories."

Guards Relentless
"St. Laurent is only six degrees from the equator, but the convicts are issued neither hats nor shoes. One day I counted nine convicts who dropped down from the effects of the sun. The guards made no effort to help them and when two other convicts made a move to assist them were belabored with whips."

"Even the privilege of bathing in the shark infested river has been denied the men because of the number of suicides by convicts who had come to prefer the man-killers in the water to the man-killers on shore, and deliberately swam out beyond the safety of the shallow water. Such washing as is done now must be done with water out of the drinking ration."

"This is the kind of thing Paul Lamont suffered for 40 years as a convict. Since his 'release,' things have been even worse, for now he is not attached for rations. He is ragged and bearded and almost hopeless—yet through it all he has kept his mind sane and bright."

"Imagine an educated person who has no idea of how the world has changed in the last half century. He pictured Lindbergh's plane as some giant bird with flapping wings like the mythical bird in Sinbad the Sailor. He could not grasp the principle of flight by any heavier-than-air machine. The things that we see every day are all a strain on his imagination."

"And it is no wonder. When he first arrived at Devil's Island he was placed in solitary confinement for two years, and when he was eventually transferred to the settlement it was weeks before he recovered his sight."

"I know a little of what solitary confinement means, for I did eight days on water and rice cakes, the ration of privileged prisoners. I had been talking to Paul Molet, partner of Dieudonne in one of his escapes, who on that occasion was bitten by a snake and had to be left behind by his partner. He was telling me about that famous adventure. A guard, I supposed, overheard the word 'escape' and thought we were plotting."

"Four days after my arrest I was taken before the commandant, and then for the first time that I was charged with conspiring to assist a convict to escape. Another four days in the semi-dungeon followed, at the end of which I was exonerated and released."

cated with Keyes and others in a series of bribes, were expected to sustain Getzoff's revelation that more than $300,000 had been paid through him by criminals seeking dismissal or acquittal on felony counts preferred by the district attorney's office.

Among the seven men said to have aided Keyes and Getzoff in a bribery ring were three former members of Keyes' staff when he was district attorney, one prominent attorney and two politicians.

Keyes, Getzoff and Ed Rosenberg, convicted last Friday of conspiracy to bribe in the Julian Petroleum corporation trial, will go before Superior Judge Hartley Shaw today for the scheduled purpose of arguing for a new trial and having sentence passed.

Both actions, it was believed, would be postponed until February 19, when Superior Judge Edward Butler, of Marin county, who heard the case, will be able to be present to rule on the motions.

HEARING RESUMED

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Bernice Morris, secretary to the late R. A. McKinley, blind Long Beach attorney who figured in the Albee Sample McPherson kidnapping probe, was the first witness called when the state assembly's committee returned today to its investigation of the conduct of Superior Judge Carlos Hardy.

She was to tell how her former employer entered the Mrs. McPherson investigation and whether Judge Hardy appeared as the evangelist's attorney. DISABLED VETS TOLD PROGRESS IN RELIEF WORK

Disabled American Veterans of the World War, American Legion men and auxiliary members from all over Orange county gathered last night at the Disabled Veterans' meeting in the Legion hall here, at which many well known officers in the national and state organizations were present.

The session was of an educational nature and concerned hospitalization and compensation matters chiefly. Progress in the campaign for relief in the veterans' hospital situation in Southern California was reported.

Maj. Dave Borden, regional director of the United States Veterans' bureau, gave a short talk on the formation of the organization. B. W. Delt, head of the adjudication department, spoke on the subject of claims and hospitalization. Earl Merfield, national liaison officer of the Disabled Veterans, outlined adjusted compensation.

Dr. James Farrage, Santa Ana, chairman of the hospital committee for the Disabled Veterans of California, spoke regarding the hospital situation. Mrs. Fannie Reeves, first president of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion here; Charles Van Wyk, ninth area commander of the Legion; State Adjutant Harry Edwards, William J. Murphy, state commander of the Disabled Veterans, and Mrs. Rose Edwards, commander of the Disabled Veterans' auxiliary, gave talks.

Major Moore, assistant regional director of the Disabled Veterans; Commander Penney, of the Quentin Roosevelt chapter of the Disabled Veterans, in Los Angeles, and Mrs. Penney were among the distinguished guests. Paul Cassidy served a much appreciated "Dutch" lunch to the 150 men and women present.

Auxiliary Dance At Laguna Beach Attracts Crowd

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 14.—The first of a series of card parties to be given by the American Legion auxiliary was a decided success Wednesday evening, when Royal Neighbors hall was well filled.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Venla Shresbury, Mrs. Sue Jahraus and Mrs. Lucille Bernard. Refreshments were served late in the evening.

High prizes for bridge were won by Mrs. Augusta Benson and Art Stromerson, with Miss Doris Gott and Eris Jamison low.

MELLON PREPARES NEW RUM ESTIMATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Secretary Mellon announced today the treasury has prepared a supplemental estimate of $2,570,000 for prohibition enforcement which it will submit to the house appropriations committee.

The extra appropriation, Mellon said, is asked in compliance with a request from the house committee for an estimate of what additional funds the treasury could use in this fiscal year.

HIGH TENSION WIRE KILLS THREE IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(UP)—When one man attempted to rescue two others, all three were electrocuted after they came in contact with a broken high tension wire in a drainage ditch in which they were working late yesterday. S. Narres, 25, and Lloyd Smith, 30, first contacted the voltage, and Fred Wright, 27, died with them when he was struck by the current as he attempted to drag them to safety.

chine gun shells but police found no evidence of machine gun bullets. On the floor also was an 18 caliber pistol.

The bodies were in all parts of the room. The body of the mechanic remained unidentified because the top of his head had been blown off.

The police said they could not tell by examining the bodies whether the men had faced the raiders or the wall when the massacre took place. That was because most of the shotgun slugs tore clear through the bodies, leaving similar wounds on both sides.

At the rear of the room in which the murders occurred was a large space crowded with trunks and automobiles. In one of the trucks police found a dismantled still, strengthening their belief that the wholesale shooting was a flare up in the beer war.

"Bugs" Moran, whose late brother-in-law, owned the garage and the cartage company, is known as an associate of "Scarface" Al Capone, the Chicago beer lord. "Bugs" is said to be second successor to the alcohol domain on the north side once ruled by Dean O'Banion, the Irish gang leader who was murdered when he fell out with the Sullivan element in the beer industry.

I see by the papers that Mr. Edison doesn't know any happy people. Well I am sorry for him. He hasn't had the pleasure of meeting me. This is one place where a man can fix a watch and be happy while he is doing it.

AMENDMENT TO J. C. MEASURE GETS APPROVAL

Orange county educators, as well as other influential citizens, today had shied away from the county unit bill for consolidation of school districts and had refused to give it their indorsement. This bill, which has been a storm center in the educational world and promises to be the center of a hot fight in the coming session of the legislature, failed to gain the approval, yesterday, of the Orange County High School Principals' association, which met in the Santa Ana high school with chamber of commerce representatives and with Senator Nelson T. Edwards and Assemblyman Edward Craig.

At the same time the group decided to approve an amendment to a junior college bill before the legislature and indorsed an amendment drafted by Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodgett. The educational committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce met prior to the general session yesterday and received the amendment from Blodgett, giving it their approval. It is designed to facilitate formation of a county union junior college district in such a way that the interests of all sections of this county concerned in the local movement would be satisfied and represented.

Prof. Frank C. Tuton, vice chairman of the educational committee of the California Taxpayers' association, sponsor of the county unit bill, explained its purpose. Along with other noted educators he is in favor of this legislation. The Orange county group felt that conditions here are satisfactory in respect to the educational problems aimed at in the bill. It was indicated that sections for which the bill would afford relief might profitably be left to solve them in their own way under existing legislation.

Assemblyman Craig told the group that he believed that no change should be made in the teacher's retirement act or the tenure act. Senator Edwards was reported to have taken the same position in respect to these measures.

A WORD OF COMFORT
Some day you will know that it makes small difference whether or no you are counted great among men. Your entire life on earth is like an incident compared with eternity.
But it is a matter of supreme moment that you shall be in process of becoming great in terms of the Kingdom of heaven. To keep your perspective clear, during these first hard days of seeming separation from your loved ones, when all of earth's prizes appear to be so useless, remind yourself that your earthly endeavor is to use the capacities and the opportunities for service which God bestows will help to determine that character which is yours forever.

CORNEEL—In Long Beach, February 14, 1929, Carl Dean Corneel, age 10 months, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Corneel. Announcement of services will be made later by the Winblier Mission Funeral home.

6 STREETS AT L. B. SLATED FOR IMPROVEMENTS

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 14.—Improvement of streets constituting improvement district No. 2 was authorized by the city council last night despite oral protests entered at the date of hearing.

First, Second, Third, Mermald, Short and Park streets are the chief thoroughfares in the district, improvements to consist of asphaltic concrete paving, cement curbs, gutters and walks, ornamental lights and ornamental trees.

The first to oppose the schedule of streets included in the district was N. Elliot West, representing the Yoch company, who thought that Short street should be eliminated. His contention was that no benefit would accrue to his company, but that the public would benefit. The only other owner on the street is the school district.

No Roundup Yet Of Cars Carrying Plates Of 1928

Capt. Henry C. Meehan, of the Orange county state traffic department, announced today that he had not received instructions to check on automobiles still carrying 1928 license tags.

A delay in the "roundup" of persons who failed to procure their new license numbers was caused because of the rush in the Sacramento office during the final days of January and the office there has not had time to mail out all plates applied for before the deadline of January 31, it was said.

George E. Thompson, clerk of the school board, read from the minutes of a mass meeting held on November 9 in which the trustees were instructed to petition for the improvement of Short street.

Special Counsel A. S. Monroe informed the council and Mr. West that to eliminate a street would make necessary going through the entire procedure again.

Carl Benson thought that the improvements would be too costly for property owners on First, Second, Third and Mermald streets and that ornamental lights were not needed on Third street. John Jehle, representing the Library association, protested against 8-inch curbs as being excessively high and also against ornamental lights as entailing an unnecessary expense.

Don Goddard asked why special counsel was required and was told that the technicalities involved made it a matter of ultimate economy to have expert advice.

The council overruled all objections and ordered the resolution ordering the work, and the invitation for bids, to be published.

Local Briefs

John Gowen, secretary and manager of the Santa Ana Walnut association, will discuss "The Walnut Situation and Conditions in Santa Ana and Orange County" at the meeting of the Santa Ana Realty board at noon tomorrow.

It was announced today by Mel Trickey, program chairman. Trickey pointed out that the subject to be discussed is of absorbing interest because of the fact that oranges and other fruits are being substituted for walnut groves that have been bearing for many years.

Nineteen men were present Tuesday night for the first meeting of a new class for training in Boy Scout leadership work, it was announced today by George Walker, Scout executive. Men were present from Laguna, Garden Grove, La Habra, Brea, Fullerton and Santa Ana.

Douglas Chambers, of Fullerton, member of the Orange county state traffic force, will be able to return to his duties tomorrow, following an operation for appendicitis which he underwent on January 22.

"I light up a Lucky

whenever I am tempted to eat between meals"

Herbert Bayard Swope

Herbert Bayard Swope,
Internationally known journalist,
former Executive Editor, N. Y. Morning World

"The activities of a newspaper demand good physical condition. I find Lucky Strike an immeasurable aid in helping me keep trim and fit. Whenever I am tempted to eat between meals, I light up a Lucky. Toasting makes Lucky Strike the cigarette of joy and benefit."

HERBERT BAYARD SWOPE

THE modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobaccos, skillfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets.

Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during the year 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

KIWANIS HEARS PROFESSOR IN LINCOLN TALK

Interesting details of places made famous by the martyred president, Abraham Lincoln, were related to Kiwanians yesterday in an address by Prof. Rexford Newcomb, of the University of Illinois.

Newcomb is here visiting his brother, Fred Newcomb, and was induced by the latter to address the club. The visitor is on a tour of the world, having been given time by the university for that purpose.

Professor Newcomb prefaced his remarks by stating that he made a special investigation and study of Lincoln's life and had written books recounting some of his observations.

His talk was illustrated by slides showing many of the shrines erected in various parts of the country in memory of the Civil war president. The history of the Lincoln family was traced by the speaker.

Hal Forrest, former editor of the Laguna Life, recently merged with the South Coast News in Laguna Beach, entertained with a number of solos, the singer proving what at one time made him a popular vaudeville performer. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Forrest, who shared stage honors with her husband several years ago.

MEXICAN FREED ON ESCAPING CHARGE

Lewis Delgado, Pasadena Mexican, charged with escaping an officer, was free today, following his preliminary examination in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court, when the court ruled that the evidence against him was insufficient.

Delgado was accused of running away when a handful of officers arrested 76 Mexicans at a cook fight near Buena Park, last June. He was arrested in Pasadena several days ago and brought here to face the charge.

REALTORS WILL HEAR EXPERT ON RESOURCES

G. D. Robertson, Los Angeles realtor, who is to address the Santa Ana Realty board at its smoker meeting in the basement of the Pacific building, Third and Broadway, tomorrow night, is regional president and director-at-large of the California Real Estate association. It was revealed here today by Asa Hofmann, president, and Herb Alleman, secretary of the board.

"Robertson is devoting much of his time to developing the state growth and progress number of the state association's magazine," Alleman said. "This edition, which will be a 'blue book' of California's resources and progress, will contain several hundred pages of facts, figures and photographs, charts and articles on all counties in the state."

The secretary pointed out that the smoker meeting of the board is for the purpose of bringing men in the city engaged in the real estate profession into closer contact. Business men of the community will be welcome, he said.

DEAN DEFENSE HITS WITNESS FOR PLAINTIFF

Defense counsel for Priscilla Dean, who is facing a $61,191 automobile crash damage suit in Superior Judge E. J. Marker court, made a subtle thrust today while cross-examining a witness for Sarah E. Ross, plaintiff, and drove home to the jury the fact that this witness herself is plaintiff in another damage suit against Miss Dean.

The defense did not dwell on this surprise development today but it is expected that in final arguments it will be pointed out to the jury that the witness, Mrs. Annie Ross, daughter-in-law of the plaintiff, may have a special interest in the case being tried today.

At the same time this point was scored, the defense also called attention to the fact that Miss Dean has at stake in court here over $100,000. Mrs. Annie Ross, with her husband, Roy Ross, has brought suit against Miss Dean for $45,650, basing their case on the same accident in which Mrs. Sarah E. Ross claims to have been injured when Miss Dean's car is asserted to have struck the Ross machine in Anaheim. Victory for Miss Dean in the case on trial today may have a bearing on the second case, it appeared, for the same cause of action exists in both. If she loses, however, it may indicate that her losses finally will be greater than they would have been otherwise.

According to testimony given today by Mrs. Annie Ross, she and her husband were riding in the same car in which Mrs. Sarah Ross and her husband, Charles E. Ross, were riding when the accident occurred. Elmer Ross, son of Mrs. Sarah Ross, was driving the car and had stopped at a boulevard stop sign on Broadway, Anaheim, when the Dean machine hit it from the rear, Mrs. Annie Ross said.

OUR GREATEST HOME BUILD-ER

The building and loan idea is constantly gaining ground in this country with an enormous gain in capital and membership and, of course, a like increase in the activities of these associations.

A railroad building and loan association of New York found out some interesting facts by questioning its 70,000 members. It was learned that most of these members started their saving practice between 20 and 30 years of age.

AUTO CRASH BASIS OF $10,236.80 SUIT

Kate Sanders and R. E. Sanders, of Anaheim, brought suit today for $10,236.80 in damages, naming Clayton Allen as defendant and alleging that his car had collided with their machine last June, injuring Mrs. Sanders.

According to the complaint, the Sanders car had driven onto La Verne street from an alley and was turning to the left, going east, when the Allen car, going west, hit it. The alley lies between Helena and Dickie streets, the complaint stated.

Mrs. Sanders spent eight weeks in bed as a result of the crash, according to the complaint.

R. E. Haynes is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Alleged Sale Of Land Suit Basis

Alleged sale of 20 acres of property on Katella road, at $70,000, was involved today in a lawsuit launched against Horace Porter by H. B. Bemis, who claims that the defendant violated an agreement with him by selling the land himself and refusing to pay Bemis his commission.

According to the complaint, Bemis was employed on October 29 to sell the property for Porter. In January, Porter sold the land himself, according to the complaint, and has refused to pay $2500 commission to Bemis, which he demanded in the suit filed today.

This Great Healing Oil Must Banish Eczema and Skin Trouble

Or Your Money Back. That's the Plan on Which Emerald Oil Is Sold by C. S. Kelley and All Good Druggists

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to C. S. Kelley or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil. The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once, but one bottle, we know, will show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered the way to restore your skin to perfect health.

Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.—Adv.

BOARD READY TO PURCHASE BUILDING SITE

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 14.—W. Horace Austin, architect, was awarded the contract for the erection of the Seal Beach city hall at an adjoining meeting of the city council last night following the presentation of tentative plans by architects from Los Angeles, Santa Ana and Long Beach.

Plans submitted by Austin include a city library, fire hall and on the second floor a large assembly room as well as quarters for the city officers and police department.

The building is Spanish in design with an enclosed court in the rear for parking and storage space. Figures submitted include all furnishings. Local workers will be given opportunity to assist in the construction of the building under the supervision of Architect Austin.

Further discussion of plans and specifications will be made at a meeting to be held in the near future. Preliminary steps were taken by the council looking to the closing of the deal for the site selected by the vote of the people at a recent election.

Reception Advantage Of Powerful Local Station Told

MOTORS CHIEF EXPECTS RADIO TO RUN AUTOS

Automobiles of the future will be driven by electric motors which will receive their power by radio directly from centrally located transmitting stations, says G. M. Williams, president of the Marmon Motor Car company. He adds:

"I can foresee with a reasonable degree of accuracy each automobile owner being assigned a special power reception designation of wavelength and all that will be necessary for him to start his car will be to pull a switch on the instrument board, thereby automatically tuning into the power wave which has been assigned to him."

"If his is an 80-horsepower motor car, his maximum reception will be 80-horsepower and cars of this power will be controlled by a rheostat used similarly to the accelerator of today."

Different Horsepower
"As is the case today, these cars will be built in different horsepower and sizes and will be taxed accordingly. Motorists will not pay for more power than is used, as a metering arrangement will be installed in each car which, at periodical intervals, will be checked by the power company for the purpose of making a charge for the power actually used."

"It is an established fact that automotive engineers long have attained as great flexibility and economy in internal combustion engines as is possible to attain in electric motors, hence the increasing use of the eight-cylinder gasoline engine. The use of such electric motors, therefore, will attain flexibility and maneuverability to a superlative degree."

Among the advantages claimed by Williams for this new development are speeding up of traffic, the elimination of noxious fumes on streets and highways, minimizing of maintenance cost of the car, complete elimination of heating and cooling of the engine, simplicity of operation and continued availability of power without replenishing fuel.

Great Economies
He further claims that the radio operated automobile would effect great economies in the national wealth. Crude oil could be burned at the central generating stations in place of the costly refined gasoline. Consistent markets for the crude petroleum would be established and the cost of distribution of the fuel would be reduced. There would also be a considerable

KPO WILL OPEN ITS 5000-WATT STATION SOON

With KPO's new 5000-watt station now in the process of assembly, a few weeks more will find the present Hale-Chronicle 1000-watt equipment replaced by one of the most modern broadcasting plants on the Pacific coast. The date of the opening of the new station will be announced soon.

The new KPO station represents the latest ideas in radio transmission efficiency and quality. Among the particular features of this new plant will be direct and definite control of its wave frequency transmission through its crystal oscillator unit. A high percentage modulation and complete shielding of its radiating units are other features.

NBC NETWORK FACES DEFICIT OF $290,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The National Broadcasting company, serving a total of 58 radio stations throughout the United States, has not been a sustaining enterprise, and now has a $290,000 deficit, the house committee on merchant marine and fisheries was told by Merlin Hall Aylesworth, president of the NBC. Aylesworth appeared before the committee for the second day in connection with the White bill to extend the administrative life of the federal radio commission one year after March 15.

The company, said Aylesworth, is approximately $300,000 behind its receipts, exclusive of depreciation of equipment and other physical property.

When WEA, in New York, was purchased from the American Telephone and Telegraph company, two years and two months ago, it had an income from sponsored programs of $160,000 a year, he said. The annual income of the NBC networks last year was $11,000,000, he declared.

Programs Optional
Aylesworth was cross-examined by Representative Davis, Democrat, Tallahassee, Fla., as to the relationship between the National Broadcasting company, its associated stations and its advertisers. Stations are not required to take an arbitrary number of hours per week, he said, replying to Davis. If a particular station in a certain area does not want the NBC program "we try to get a station that does," said Aylesworth. He said there is "misinformation" to the effect that stations of the NBC are required to take programs offered by the company.

"The point I want to bring out is whether or not the stations are required to take programs and if they don't, do you do anything about it?" Representative Davis asked.

"No, sir; we do nothing about it," replied Aylesworth.
Encourage Local Programs
Under further questioning by Davis, Aylesworth declared that the NBC asks its stations not to take programs from the competing chain. This policy was adopted, he explained, because the NBC pays the American Telephone and Telegraph company for the leasing of its wires over a period of 16 hours per day, whereas only a small portion of that time actually is used in the relaying of the chain programs.

Nikolai Sokoloff, who recently led the Cleveland Symphony orchestra through its first national broadcast over the NBC, has been chosen to direct the National orchestra on February 23. Sokoloff is taking the famous Walter Damrosch's place, as Damrosch is to be absent from New York on that date. Sokoloff and the Cleveland orchestra were classed as "one of the great orchestras of the world, directed by one of the greatest conductors of his age," by John B. Daniels, NBC announcer.

"1929, as a radio Year, will be so far ahead of 1928 as to defy comparison!" H. G. Erstrom is authority for that statement. And, as Executive Secretary of the Federated Radio Trades association, The National Organization of men Engaged in the Distribution of radios, HE SHOULD KNOW! However, Mr. Erstrom is not alone in his prediction—Maj. R. A. Klock, of Chicago, of the National Electrical Manufacturers' Association, has figures which certainly make the prophecy look good—The total average Business of Radio dealers carrying Stock of over $500 in 1927 was $11,195, Klock says, and 1928 figures indicate an average Business of $15,470, an increase of 32 per cent. It follows, Klock Points out, that 1929 should bring a Total business of $650,000,000. Compared with $600,000,000 in 1927—In 1927, the Statistician claims, Accessories amounted To 60 per cent Of the year's Total sales, but this Year accessories May fall to 20 per cent, as the Additional Purchases necessary To complete the Equipment of many Receivers now Are vacuum Tubes only—

GERMANY TESTING RADIOS ON TRAINS

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—The installation of broadcast receivers on trains, such as was successfully done in Canada, is now the subject of experiment in Germany. The ingenuity that was applied to installing radio telephone, so that train passengers could telephone to any part of Germany, is now being applied to the program end. A fast train between Breslau and Berlin has been used for these tests, and reports are encouraging. Less interference has been encountered than would be expected. Reception on earphones alone is contemplated for the present. There will be no charge for using the headsets. The object is to make the journey a happier one.

East Is West In Radioland, Says Official For NBC

BY DON E. GILMAN
Manager of the Pacific Division of The National Broadcasting Company

More than a month's experience in regular broadcasting of eastern programs on the Pacific coast has demonstrated conclusively that they are well received and looked forward to by the western radio audience.

A recent trip to various sections of Pacific slope states and the contact with representative groups of men has convinced me that in the opinion of the radio audience national broadcasting expresses a long-felt need and creates a wider audience for all radio programs.

The desire of the average listener for distant stations seems to have become unimportant.

WAVE IS STEADIED BY HEATED CRYSTAL

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 14.—Better distribution of its transmission is being enjoyed by WHAM, Rochester, because of its accurately maintained 1150 k. c. carrier by thermoelectric control of its crystal governor. Particularly after sunset is considerable improvement noted in the penetrating faculty of WHAM's wave, generated at the transmitter in Victor township.

The station explained the situation as follows: "In place of the frequency checking formerly necessary, we have new equipment that places an accurately ground and calibrated crystal in the transmitter circuit and gives it constant control of the carrier wave."

"This crystal is housed in an electrically heated compartment in which the heat is kept uniform by thermostatic control. The crystal keeps the carrier wave accurately on 1150 k. with a variation of only 1 per cent. "The benefit accruing is a better penetration of the ether."

MORE CLEARED WAVES AIM OF CROWTHER BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Having become convinced after discussing the subject with leading engineers that 50 cleared channels would afford better radio reception, although at the expense of some small stations obtaining even less time on the air, Representative Frank Crowther, of Schneetly, N. Y., has introduced a bill in the house to compel the federal radio commission to assign at least 50 cleared channels.

The reallocation, effective November 11, established 40 cleared channels, that is, eight for each of the five geographical zones into which the United States is divided for radio purposes.

Representative Crowther, who hails from the city in which WGY is situated, said: "I believe that much greater service can be obtained from a cleared channel than from a regional or local. With 50 cleared channels it will be possible for each zone to have 10 instead of eight. It would also enable the commission to settle the WGY controversy and give that station full time on a cleared channel."

In my opinion it would be better to provide 60 cleared channels, but I leave that to the discretion of the commissioners and make it compulsory for them to provide only 50.

"I have talked to many of the leading engineers and they all seem to favor at least 50 cleared channels."

WOULD OVERCOME NOISES, SAYS DON C. WALLACE IN SECOND STORY OF SERIES

By DON C. WALLACE
American Institute of Radio Engineers

There are times in Santa Ana when the noise level prevents proper reception from even nearby stations. The Los Angeles stations are badly interfered with by electrical devices such as diathermy, violet ray, x-ray machines, vibrators, sign flashers and the like.

The one positive prevention of difficulty along this line is to have a local station, particularly a local station of super power.

The proposed super station for the vicinity of Santa Ana would thus assure all concerned of continuous and enjoyable programs from a station well equipped both from personnel and technical angle.

Of course there is no reason why the electrical devices referred to above cannot be stopped. This also applies to any other electrical noise. All that is necessary is the locating of the source of the interference and then the installation of a suitable device at the machine for the prevention of radiation. Each machine causing a spark, no matter how tiny the spark, is capable of generating radio waves. These radio waves are, in effect, miniature broadcasting stations, broadcasting for a definite area about each machine. If every electrical appliance in town were fixed, there would be more tomorrow, so the perfect condition can never exist. The only permanent cure is to have local stations loud enough to ride in over any such miniature broadcasting stations no matter how close they may be to the listener's set.

Condition Now Exists
Such a condition now exists at times in such cities as Long Beach, where for six weeks in November and December there was an area of 100 square blocks right in the heart of the residence section where no Los Angeles station could be received clearly all day. Even the powerful super-stations KFI and KNX were not strong enough to ride in without an obnoxious background of noise. At such a time the only station powerful enough to come in with positive clearness was KFOX, with its 1000 watts of 100 per cent modulated carrier wave. The only reason KFOX could be relied upon is that it has the power to overcome the noise of the city. (Continued on Page 9)

NORTHWEST TO PUT PROGRAM ON NBC CHAIN

The first radio program to go from the Pacific northwest over the entire nation will be released from the Seattle studios of the American Broadcasting company at 7 o'clock, Pacific standard time, tonight, and will present one of the foremost radio symphonic orchestras of the west, the American Philharmonic, under the direction of Francesco Longo, noted conductor.

During the program controls will be switched to the New York studios of the Columbia Broadcasting system, where Hon. Henry O'Malley, U. S. commissioner of fisheries, will tell of the government's policy in Alaska to conserve the supply of salmon. O'Malley was Herbert Hoover's right hand man when the president-elect was secretary of commerce and directed far-seeing policies in line with the conservation of the salmon supply.

In addition to being the first broadcast to originate in the Pacific northwest, this also is the first west-to-east broadcast which is sponsored by a western industry in the interest of a western product. It marks the opening of a great national advertising campaign by the associated salmon packers in the interest of the sale and use of pink salmon. It is fitting that this broadcast should originate in Seattle, the salmon capital of America.

KFI ANNOUNCES DAILY PROGRAM OF FARM TALKS

Beginning each day at 12 noon, and continuing 10 minutes, talks of interest to farmers, growers and producers will be given during the week beginning February 18 under the auspices of the agricultural extension service, co-operating with radio station KFI. The farm advisor announces the following daily talks:

February 18, "The Citrus Fruit Outlook for California," M. B. Rounds, farm advisor, Los Angeles county.

February 19, "Grapefruit," a bulletin on the California industry, by H. R. Wellman and E. W. Braun, University of California.

February 20, "Pest Problems of Dates," A. E. Bottel, horticultural commissioner, Riverside county.

February 21, a Forestry talk, by Paul Grey, of Covina.

February 22, "The Livestock Outlook for California," C. V. Casale, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county.

February 23, "Economic Feeding of Dairy Cows," Jay Dutter, southern representative, California Dairy council.

REGULAR SHIPMENTS PROMISED BY KENT

Los Angeles will receive regular carload radio shipments from the Atwater-Kent factory in Philadelphia despite the unprecedented volume of orders following the recent introduction of the new electric-dynamic model 46, it was announced today.

The first carload has arrived in Los Angeles. The Atwater-Kent factory reports the biggest flood of orders in its history. Nearly 9000 radio sets are being manufactured, it is said.

WTAU Complains Of Impairment In Its Radio Service

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14. — The service of WTAU, Columbus, Ohio, operated by the American Insurance union, has been impaired by the reallocation, the radio committee was told by John J. Lentz. The station is on the same channel with KFI, Los Angeles, and now must cease broadcasting at sunset on the Pacific coast, or at 7:30 local time. He asked the committee to rectify this condition in any new legislation. He said several million people within a radius of 100 miles of the station are served by the station, while the Pacific coast station serves "a lot of fishes in the Pacific and cactus plants in the deserts."

PUT LIVESTOCK MART REPORTS ON AIR DAILY

A comprehensive radio broadcasting system, in which government livestock market experts dispatch daily market conditions direct from the stockyards of the livestock markets in Omaha, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Sioux City, Fort Worth and Wichita, has been developed by the bureau of agricultural economics, U. S. department of agriculture.

The Omaha broadcast, through station WOW, was added to the system January 31, through the co-operation of livestock market executives at that point. Over this station the Omaha livestock market representatives of the bureau of agricultural economics, by means of remote control in the stockyards, broadcast on a daily schedule the livestock receipts at seven large markets; hog flashes from Omaha, Chicago, Kansas City and Sioux City; the close of the markets with advance estimates of livestock receipts for the next day, and complete market summaries.

At each station on the system, the government market reporters personally broadcast the livestock news of the day, and give emphasis in the reports to conditions on the market. The broadcast from Fort Worth is through station WBAP; Kansas City, WKB; St. Joseph, KFEQ; Wichita, KFH, and Sioux City, KSCJ.

Each station is operated independently, but the combined service makes available a detailed report on market conditions.

VICTOR AND RCA MERGER NOW IS UP TO HOLDERS

In a letter to the holders of common stock of the Victor Talking Machine company, Edward E. Shumaker, president of the company, has requested the stockholders to deposit certificates for their holdings on or before March 4 with J. W. Seligman and company, or with Seligman brothers, Ltd., London, as agent for the depositary.

This is the first step in carrying out the plan for uniting the Victor company with the Radio Corporation of America. The J. W. Seligman company and Speyer and company will act as managers under the plan. They are urging the holders of Victor stock to deposit their holdings in order to avail themselves of the offer by the Radio Corporation of America.

One of the conditions for the completion of the merger is that seven-eighths of the common stock of the Victor company be deposited.

What They'll Get

If the plan is consummated, the holders of Victor common stock will receive for each share deposited one share of "B" preferred stock of the Radio corporation, without par value, but entitled to cumulative dividends of $5 annually and redeemable at $100 and accrued dividends; one share of the new common stock of the Radio corporation, which is equal to one-fifth of the old stock, and $5 in cash as well as the regular dividend at the rate of $4 a share annually on the Victor common stock from Feb. 1, 1929, until the date of the consummation of the plan.

Dividends on the Victor common stock will continue to accrue until the date on which dividends on the Radio corporation "B" preferred stock will begin to accrue, which will be about April 1. Victor 7 per cent prior preference shares and the convertible stock will be called for redemption when the plan is consummated.

Activities Tie In
In his letter to the stockholders, Shumaker says:

"The activities of the Radio corporation and the Victor company are complementary to an unusual degree. Broadcasting, the radio in the home, the phonograph, both mechanical and electrical, the new and popular art of talking motion pictures, the advent of television are all part of the field of entertainment and closely related."

One of the reasons for the merger of the two companies, as suggested in Shumaker's letter, is to make available to the Radio corporation and associated companies the great body of artists of the Victor company and the engineering and research talent of the Radio corporation and associated companies to the Victor.

KPO WILL OPEN ITS 5000-WATT STATION HERE

end when placed alongside of each other, contain most of the new KPD transmitter apparatus. Besides this, a complete water cooling apparatus for the two great 10-kilowatt power tubes of the station will be utilized. A double set of motor-generators of high power also is part of the installation.

In conjunction with the installation of this new 5000-watt station, a modern studio suite of four rooms is being constructed on the sixth floor of the Hale Brothers' building. A marked departure from the old KPD suite will be the separate announcer's room. From this room the announcer will be able to see into every part of the suite. A system of light signals and loud speakers will allow instant communication between the announcer, the performers in each studio and the operator in the equipment-control room.

Despite this great increase of power, KPD's future wave transmissions will be extremely sharp, declare the engineers who designed the apparatus. The crystal control unit will keep the station's wave permanently on its assigned position in the broadcast band, allowing listeners within close range of the station to tune the station in or out easily.

LOCAL STATION CAN OVERCOME INTERFERENCE

at the particular time was because it was powerful and located close to the affected area. Another area now is being bothered at the present writing and for a distance of several miles along a certain street a similar condition exists.

No Perfect Reception

The public utility corporations, the interference committees of the Radio Trades association, interested individuals and the radio dealers all are trying to do all they can at all times to locate and remedy these conditions. They are successful, too, but people are only human and cannot quite keep up with the conditions as they show up. It seems that as soon as one interference is fixed, another shows up, possibly in a different part of town, so there actually is no assurance that any one locality will have perfect radio reception at all times unless there is a strong local station to produce the necessary programs.

Only this week the writer was in Santa Ana, casually listening on a radio receiver which at times was bothered so severely from a neighboring doctor's apparatus as to prevent reception from KHJ. The doctor, of course, could fix the trouble and undoubtedly will as soon as he gets around to it. The trouble also can be remedied to a certain extent at the receiver itself—to the reduction of the noise level, say 25 per cent. In the meantime it is hard to determine just which machine does cause the trouble and certain choking devices must be applied to cure the trouble in the doctor's office.

Can Penetrate Static
A large station also is able to penetrate the static level. Static (as differentiated from noise level) is a condition rarely occurring in the winter months. Static holds sway in the summer time, but even then has no effect on powerful local stations, particularly those located within 10 miles or so of the listener. If, in addition, the powerful local actually is a super station, the reception will be even better, usually satisfactory even during thunder showers such as the one which hit Southern California during January. People in California like to believe that they have no lightning, but there usually is some in the mountains, these shots occurring at stronger intervals during the summertime and at rarer times during the winter. Whether these static crashes originate in the mountains of Mexico or on top of Old Baldy makes little or no difference to programs from the right kind of local station.

The growing importance of Santa

Ana and Orange County is manifest daily by the increased travel to and from the county, by the addition of important highways from time to time and by the numerous subdivisions.

Would Help County
Orange county cannot afford to lose her identity with an increasing influx of people and money merely because of not having a large broadcasting station. Such a station automatically would take care of the necessity for a more general dissemination of information concerning the whereabouts and prominence of the county, especially among the newcomers and those about to come from the east to Southern California.

Right now there is available a channel for a super power operation. The channel will be relatively clear. A year or so from now this may not be true at all. It may be difficult to get channels, construction permits and cleared channels in the future, so with these things actually settled at the present time and actual assignment to the new station, Santa Ana and Orange county can consider herself especially fortunate.

FORESEES AUTOS OPERATED BY RADIO

able saving in the fuel considering the fact that the average automobile is not operated at maximum efficiency. It is estimated that 10 per cent of the gasoline used today is wasted in idling motors.

Williams calls attention to the rapid strides made during the last 10 years by radio engineers, pointing especially to the success achieved in the transmission of sound waves. He has been advised, he says, by eminent radio engineers that within a relatively short time power transmission without the use of wires will be an accomplished fact. He predicts that within a short time there will be a greater co-operation between the radio and the automotive engineers along this line.

GERWING STORE TO HAVE NEW FRONT

Workmen today were completing alterations which will give Bob Gerwing's Radio shop at 312 North Broadway an entirely new plate glass front.

The new windows were installed yesterday and they afford a clear view of the store's inside and the radio models on display.

Gerwing does not contemplate arranging window displays other than that in the radio department, which is easily visible through the new front and set off to advantage.

DON'T HURT CHURCHES

Congregations of churches on the air in Canada are not being diminished by radio, according to their pastors. Radio may have affected attendance in small localities, they say, but the people who stay home are in all probability listening in on a sermon.

LIFE Insurance Policy For $5.00

For A Short Time Our Subscribers Can Secure A Low Cost Insurance Policy Issued By

THE POLICY HOLDERS' LIFE INSURANCE ASSOCIATION OF LOS ANGELES

Male or female, ages from 10 to 55, no restrictions as to travel, residence or place of death, without medical examination.

Organized under the laws of the State of California and operated under the supervision of the insurance department of this state.

What Is This Insurance Plan?

The oldest form of Insurance known, purely mutual

Is plain old-fashioned life insurance, without frills. Leaves out such items as cash values, extended values, and paid-up insurance values, which represent such a large part of the premium of the usual investment form of life insurance, but which add nothing to the value of the policy to the insured at death.

Is sure protection, at cost. You make your savings in any of the various ways offered in this day and age which pay a higher rate of interest return than investment life insurance.

Is Non-Medical, Requiring Only A Statement of First Class Health and Physical Condition

Is incontestable from date of issue except for suicide first year or for fraud. It is free from restrictions as to resident, travel, occupation, place or manner of death.

Members are not liable for any debts of the Association. The only obligation is to pay the dues and Death Claims. Failure to pay such, lapses the insurance and terminates membership in the Association.

Is offered as additional low cost protection to those already carrying life insurance, and as a much needed form of protection to those who feel themselves unable to carry the higher priced forms of investment life insurance. Is heartily approved by bankers, professional and business men and women.

Can You Afford to Pass Up This Opportunity?

Is your wife and family protected, or will they have to pay in sacrifice for your neglect? This announcement is of great importance to you—if you have a family—wife and little children—a mother grown old, or a father enfeebled by age.

It is an unpleasant thought but one that none of us can escape—if you have failed to provide for that great emergency that so often leaves families destitute and forces them immediately out into the world to find some way to meet their bills, before they have fully recovered from their altered condition.

If the unexpected should happen, wouldn't it be a splendid thing to leave them enough to safeguard their independence during that heart-breaking period of readjustment? So that she will not be broken down by the burden of debt that so often follows the blow of death. Why not bridge that gap now, in advance, for her sake?

IT'S JUST TOO BAD
Football prospects at Notre Dame this fall don't appear any brighter than they did last year and the outlook by no means can be considered favorable," Mr. Knute Rockne said recently as he rushed out with the first bear story of the new year.

Mr. Rockne committed himself in an interview given down in Charlotte, N. C., in which he moaned that he had lost his entire backfield—Chevigny, Niemio, Brady and nine or ten other half-backs.

With his entire backfield gone and two star line-men, Capt. Miller and Leppig also gone, the Notre Dame coach said that the prospects for a successful year were gloomy. The freshman class also failed him.

ZENAYDO CHAVEZ QUAINT RING CHARACTER; HAS MANY LOYAL FOLLOWERS, MANY OPPONENTS

By RINGSIDER

Zenaydo Chavez, the willing young welterweight scholar of Santa Ana, seems to be a plaything of the fates. Like Jack Dempsey, almost every bout in which he engages seems to end in a spirited controversy. This has served to help publicize the fighting Mexican until he has built up the quaintest kind of a following—half the house usually being "for" him a million, the rest siding with his adversary, good, bad or indifferent.

When Chavez was kicking their ears off in the days of the late lamented "amateurs," half of the city's flit-fanciers said he was a champion in the making and the others scornfully alleged that the boy was being fed a row of set-ups.

When they served Chavez the idol of the faithful disciples of Boyd Ellis' "Barn," Jimmie Rivers, half the house thought Chavez was a decisive winner. The wrathful rest, believing Rivers won all the way from here to his home in Fullerton, muttered that Chavez couldn't lose here unless he was knocked kicking.

When Fred Tegniovitz, nee Frankie Burns, attempted to stop Zenaydo's winning streak last week and did get as much as a draw from a disinterested referee, the Chavez yell leaders argued that the official was afraid to brave the anti-Chavez faction and accord to the home town by a just decision while the parties of the second part chortled in glee and bruted it about that Zenaydo was lucky to get an even break in the verdict.

Tomorrow night at the Orange County Athletic club, where all of Chavez's important battles have been fought, the much discussed Santa Anna meets Tegniovitz, or Burns, in a return bout over the six-round route. The Chavez following predicts a quick knockout. The opposition is firm in its opinion that Tegniovitz will prove conclusively that Chavez is just a little country boy who has no business mingling in the elite society of one who has traveled with all of the leading 145-pounders on the Pacific Coast.

And of this kind of stuff drawing cards are manufactured.

'BARNEY' SAYS HIS CAREER IS DREAM TO HIM

In a quest that, perhaps, may lead to the discovery of some gangle diamond in the rough such as he himself was here 25 years ago, the incomparable Walter Johnson, baseball's most beloved character, has turned resolutely to the little section which first encouraged him along the highways of success.

Johnson, once a lanky, country-bumpkin from up Olinda way, is, through an intermediary, scouring Orange county sandlots for baseball talent.

Commissioned as a scout by his friend of many years, Guy Meats, who caught the mighty "Barney" in the "good old days" of Sunday winter baseball at Hawley's ball park in the Western part of Santa Ana, already has signed to a Washington contract Willard Herschberger, Fullerton high school's fine all-around athlete. Johnson returns to Washington as team manager this season.

Hatfield and Hurst, Too Meats also has signed "Chisel" Hatfield and Hurst, two other well known Fullerton baseball players, to contracts for the Newark club of the International league which Johnson managed last season.

It is understood that Meats has his eye on one or two other promising Orange county youths whom he believes have professional possibilities.

Herschberger will report as a catcher, it is said, but as he is equally adept for infield positions Johnson may try the Fullerton boy at second or third base. Herschberger is captain of the Fullerton basketball squad and was the star of the Indians' football team last season. He has been playing in recent ball games at the Fair grounds and has been hitting and fielding brilliantly.

That Johnson does not to this day realize what a great pitcher he has been is the statement of Meats who was in the dugout at the Fair grounds in 1904, 1909 and 1910 in the Southern California Winter league.

"The past 20 years are like a dream to me," Johnson confided to Meats. "I don't know why it was but I just went in there and threw them over the plate and the batters didn't hit them. I don't understand it—it all seems like a dream to me."

Roy ("Brownie") West, of Santa Ana, who played with Johnson here, says that statement is a true index to the character of the famous moundman.

"We played with Walter three years and got to know him intimately," West said. "He was just a great big, good-natured, easy-going Swede with no temperament and the finest disposition I ever have known. When we 'booted' one behind him Walter would only grin, encourage us and go on pitching."

West tells the inside of how "Barney" broke into professional baseball. Meats told it to him and West believes this side of Johnson's life story never before has been made public.

"When Johnson and Meats went to Weiser in 1907 Walter was nothing but a raw-boned busher with a truckload of natural ability," West said. "He felt confident up there in the 'sticks' and set a world's record by hurling 87 consecutive innings without a run being scored on him. He had too much speed for the boys."

"This remarkable achievement was reported to Cliff Blankenship, then scouting for Washington, and Blankenship hustled over to Weiser, cornered Johnson and attempted to sign him. But the fact that he just made a world's record did not register deeply with Walter. The thought of going back east and pitching against big leaguers terrified him."

"I can't make good among those big fellows, Johnson told Meats. They are too fast for me. I know how I can get rid of this fellow Blankenship. I'll telegraph my folks down at Olinda and ask them what to do. They'll say no and that will settle it."

"But Walter's folks wired him to use his own judgment; that so far as they were concerned he could do as he saw fit. Meats tells me that Johnson really was surprised and appointed his parents didn't forbid him to play. And when he signed the next day with Blankenship he did so against his own will."

GOES UP HIGH

With Sabin Carr and Lee Barnes competing no longer as collegians, the field is wide open for some enterprising young pole vaulter to grab off some points in the big track meets. And Henry F. Canby, Iowa sophomore, offers himself as a candidate for those points. He is jumping consistently above 13 feet and hopes to near the 14-foot mark before he ends his college career.

YUDEL BEATY ON CONFERENCE ALL-STAR TEAM

Immediately after his Santa Ana Dons had completed their conference schedule last night by beating Fullerton, 38 to 26, Coach Bill Foote announced his selections for a first and second All-Junior College conference basketball team.

Meat, Yuodel, crack Santa Ana forward, was named on Foote's first string and Blanchard Beatty Don guard, was picked on the second team.

Of the 10 regulars on Foote's two squads, Santa Ana placed two men, Long Beach four, Pasadena two and Fullerton and Compton one each.

Foote's selections follow:
First Team Second Team
Yuodel (S. A.) Matter (Pas.)
Frank (B.) F. Dauser (Fl'tn)
Oiler (L. B.) C. Schmetka (C'tn)
Davis (L. B.) G. Beatty (S. A.)
Harden (Pas.) G. Linnell (L. B.)

Honorable mention: Hiatt, Glendale and Fulmis of Compton.
Both of these men are forwards and while not outstanding enough to warrant berths on either of the two teams, according to Coach Foote, they deserve mention as being players of more than average found in the Western division of the conference.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 14.—The knee injury which has caused one postponement in the match came back to defeat Nick Lutze, Chicago grappler, in his bout with "Strangler" Lewis, former world's heavyweight wrestling champion here last night. Lutze kept Lewis on the defensive until his weak knee was wrenched in two toe holds after an hour and 11 minutes of tussle.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—The University of Southern California basketball team will leave tonight for Palo Alto where it will meet the Cardinal five Friday and Saturday nights. Coach Leo Calland will take 11 players on the trip.

TUSTIN CAGERS DETERMINED TO CAPTURE TITLE

An air of grim determination permeated the training quarters of the Tustin high school basketball squad today as Coach Bill Cole directed his sensational Farmers through the last bit of their preparation for tomorrow night's championship brawl with Fullerton.

The Tustin gymnasium will accommodate in the neighborhood of 1000 customers and the place is expected to be crowded with supporters of the schools which now are tied for first place in the Orange league with seven victories and only one defeat. Tickets for reserved seats may be obtained at the Victor Walker sporting goods store in Santa Ana or at Tustin high school, it was announced.

Tremendous interest has been aroused over the impending conflict, particularly at Tustin which never before has had an athletic team "up there" in the standings. Coach Cole's youngsters have rolled up the impressive total of 204 points in eight conference contests while their opposition has been making 156.

One reason for the success of the Farmers is that Cole has three basket shooters, "Spud" Cochran and "Red" Thiery, forwards, and Emmett Seacord, center. Cochran is leading the squad in scoring with 54 points but he is being hard pressed for honors by Seacord and Thiery, who have 51 to their credit.

Don Smith, Harry Holmes and Martin Replogle are three brilliant guards. Smith has scored 17 points which is a good record for a guard. Replogle and Holmes have made four.

When Tustin and Fullerton met on the first trip around the circuit the Indians won, 35 to 12, after Tustin had taken an early lead. The Farmers suffered from stage fright in this start but will do much better with that game behind them.

Tustin should have even a better team next season because of his entire squad of 11 men Cole loses only two, Smith and Hind, who is not a regular. Thiery, Holmes, Kim Pratt and Horace Rittner are only sophomores and "Spud" Cochran, Seacord, Replogle, Bob Cochran and Fred Cooper are juniors. Three games will be played between Tustin and Fullerton tomorrow, the Class D fives starting proceedings at 6:30 p. m. A Class B battle will follow with the varsities scheduled to clash about 8:15.

SCHAEFER CROWNED BILLIARD CHAMPION

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Young Jake Schaefer, of Chicago, who learned his billiards at the knee of his father, the great Jake Schaefer of pre-Hoppe days, is now a three-time world champion in his own right.

Schaefer won the title for the third time in his youthful career when he defeated Walker Cochran, of Hollywood, Calif., 400 to 328 in 11 innings in the final match of the 1929 international 18.3 ballline tournament, last night.

Jake took the lead with a run of 96 in the second inning and was never headed, although Cochran fighting against the toughest of breaks—put up a game battle and several times threatened to take the lead.

Schaefer's best inning was the sixth in which he gathered and regathered the three ivory balls for a brilliant run of 169. Cochran's best run was 82 in the eighth inning.

Emanuel To Meet Paolino Uzcudun

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—A 10-round bout between Armand Emanuel, of San Francisco, and Paolino Uzcudun, squat woodchopper of the Pyrennes, will be staged at Wrigley field in late March or early April, Hayden Wadhams announced today in behalf of Jack Doyle. Emanuel recently lost a 10-round decision here to Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia.

Sonnenberg's Foe 'Out' 12 Minutes

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 14.—Gus Sonnenberg, who claims the world's heavyweight wrestling title, defeated Stanley Stasiak in a bout here, after being floored six times. The decisive fall was made by Sonnenberg's "flying tackle." Stasiak was unconscious 12 minutes.

SAINTS' ANNUAL CLASS MEET TO BEGIN FEB. 25

Santa Ana high school's traditional interclass track and field meet, an event almost as old as the school itself, will be conducted at Poly field Monday and Wednesday, February 25 and 27, Coach "Tex" Oliver announced today.

The meet is usually held earlier in the season but the Saint mentor purposely delayed the affair this semester in order to allow a bevy of basketball players, who finish their season next week, a chance to compete.

The Santa Ana Daily Register's cup, put up two years ago, again will be presented to the winning class.

The Juniors of 1927 and the seniors of 1928 won the big event. More than likely, the seniors will again win it this year, although the juniors figure to make it a class meet and the sophomores are not to be counted out either, boasting several stars from the two junior high schools, including Jim Daneri and Ralph Gordon, fleet sprinters.

The first league meet will come only a few days later, at Long Beach March 2. The next meet will be on Poly field with Glendale March 9. To add interest to the interclass meet, the Poly Movie club will take scenes for its big school film now being produced. Pictures also may be taken of the Glendale meet.

The Poly track was graded yesterday and is now fit to run on. The b. v. d. experts need all the practice they can get for the National Orange Show relays at San Bernardino Saturday in which the Saints are expected to cut quite a figure in the novice events as well as the open competition.

NATIONAL LEAGUE SCHEDULE RELEASED

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Baseball fans of Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Chicago will witness the opening games of the 1929 National league season April 18, the official schedule, released today, shows.

The champion St. Louis Cardinals will open the season at Cincinnati, and Pittsburgh will play at Chicago in the second Western opening game. In the East New York will open at Philadelphia and Brooklyn at Boston.

Card Tracksters Open Season Soon

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 14.—Stanford's track and field season opens here next Tuesday in the traditional way the interclass meet and Irish marathon scheduled for the same afternoon.

The interclass meet will offer track fans their first opportunity to see the 1929 Cardinal team in action. Some interesting individual duels should develop with Captain Ross Nichols, Ward Edmonds and Rogers Smith mixing in the high hurdles; Hec Dyer and John Lauritzen matching strides in the 100-yard dash; and John Morrison and Maynor Shove clashing in the quarter-mile.

The Hawley Sports quintet today had at least temporarily outdistanced all other Santa Ana teams in the City Basketball league and had only the J. and N. Shop five of Anaheim as a serious contender.

Playing on the Y. M. C. A. court here last night, the Hawleys had little difficulty brushing aside the Santa Ana 20-30 club, 32 to 21, for its fourth straight victory. Orville Schuchardt and Arnold Lund, star Hawley forwards, were too much for the clubmen.

Making their last game their best one, Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana junior college basketballers defeated Fullerton, 38 to 26, in the final undertaking of their season here last night and today and found themselves tied with three other schools for second place in the final standings of the Southern California Junior College conference.

While the Dons were closing their campaign in a flush of delayed glory, the champion Long Beach Vikings, "wonder team" of the division, were winning from Pasadena, 23 to 16, and Compton was spilling Glendale, 51 to 30. Long Beach won the championship without a defeat in 10 starts while Santa Ana, Pasadena, Fullerton and Compton all tied for second, with five victories against the same number of defeats. Glendale failed to win a game.

Long Beach will now meet San Bernardino, winner of the Eastern division, in a series for the championship of the entire conference. The first game will be played at San Bernardino Saturday night.

Dons Overcome Lead
Although Fullerton took the lead in the first minute of play in the tussle at Andrews gymnasium, the Santa Anas rallied early in the first half, took the lead and never relinquished it. They were leading at half-time, 22 to 18, and added materially to this advantage when they returned to the floor in the second half.

Fullerton challenged in the middle of the stream and looked dangerous for a few minutes but its rally was short-lived in the face of the stronger Don defense and at the end Foote's crew was pulling away rapidly.

The Dons made a basket just as the gun was fired, which would have made their total 40 but the two points were disallowed because, it was ruled, the ball was thrown an instant after the contest terminated.

Fullerton was handicapped by the illness of one of its players and an injury to "Mutt" Dauser, star forward, who could not raise his right arm over his head. Dauser had run amuck in many other games this season and the Santa Anas guarded him closely.

Yuodel Makes 19 Points
Meat, Yuodel, brilliant forward of the local collegians, covered himself with glory in this, his last game for the Dons. Yuodel personally accounted for 19 points of which 16 were scored on baskets. This rounded out a total of 126

HORNSBY'S BAT MAY GIVE CUBS CHAMPIONSHIP

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Rogers Hornsby's bat may mean a pennant for the Chicago Cubs.

Few changes—the acquisition of Hornsby, a possible shift at third base and added pitching material of a doubtful quantity—have been made in the Cubs, but the presence alone of the champion batsman of the National league may spell the difference between third and first place from 1928 to 1929. Hornsby, who cost William Wrigley almost a half million in cash and players, is calculated not only to add punch to the Cubs' attack but to exert a steady influence over Woody English which will cause the young shortstop to develop into a star of the first magnitude.

Hornsby, who is 33, batted .357 as manager of the Boston Braves last season. With the worries of a manager off his shoulders, Hornsby certainly should play as well the coming season as he did last.

Those who expect Hornsby to fall into his evil ways again were surprised to learn recently that he had signed a pledge with President William Veeck to refrain from betting on the races or any other gambling games during the life of his three-year contract with the Cubs.

The only contemplated shift in the remainder of the lineup is to try Clarence Blair and Danny Taylor at third base along with Clyde Beck. Taylor, who also plays the outfield, batted .374 for Memphis and has a reputation as a daring base runner. Blair batted .284 for Little Rock.

Charley Grimm at first base and English at shortstop will complete the infield. The only other infielder on the roster is Norman McMillan, who was a utility man last season.

The Cubs have the same group of outfielders. Stephenson is left, Wilson in center and Cuyler in right will form the regular trio, with Heathcote in a reserve role. Taylor may be used in the outfield if he fails to win a berth at third base.

Five new pitchers are on the squad. Outstanding among them is Mike Cveengros, southpaw who has had tryouts with Washington and the White Sox. Cveengros, who won 21 games and lost 8 for Wichita Falls, is counted on to replace Percy Jones, shipped to the Braves in the Hornsby deal.

The other new pitchers are Clyde Day, who won 17 games and lost 18 for Omaha; Roy Hansen, who won 12 games and lost 17 for Elmira, N. Y.; Berlyn Horne, who won 15 games and lost 17 for Jersey City; and Eddie Lautenbacher, who won 10 games and lost five for Reading.

Hal Carlson, who was ill most of last season, hopes to return in good shape and take his regular turn along with "Sheriff" Blake, Guy Bush, Charley Root, Art Nehf and Percy Malone. Henry Gramp and Edgar Holley, who were with the Cubs last season, may develop into regulars.

"Gabby" Hartnett and Mike Gonzales will again take care of the catching. Tom Angley, who batted .323 for Atlanta, and Bob Grace, who batted .336 for Little Rock, will be given tryouts as catchers.

THREE SCHOOLS TIED IN CHASE FOR 'B' TITLE

Although Long Beach varsity and Whittier's Class C basketball teams hold undisputed possession of first place in the Coast Preparatory league, the race in the Class B division is a wide open one, conference standings disclosed today.

Santa Ana's powerful middleweights, who were to play at Alhambra this afternoon, were tied for the leadership with Long Beach and San Diego while Whittier and Glendale were only one full game behind the pace-setters. This year's chase is almost as close and exciting as that of 1928 when Pasadena, Whittier and Santa Ana finished in a triple tie for the championship, Pasadena winning in the playoff.

DON SOPHOMORES WIN FROM FRESHMEN

In a hectic 25-minute preliminary, the Don Sophomores defeated the Frosh, 10 to 7. There were not quite enough Frosh to complete the team so a couple of obliging sophomores volunteered to play with the peagreeners and these same peagreeners are still blaming the sophs who played with them for their defeat. They claimed the second year men were working against them instead of with them.

Although the half ended with the score standing 2 to 4 against them, the sophomores came back in the second half to overtake and lead the Frosh to the end of the game.

tion of the country on the next week-end."

TOO BAD IT'S HOT
Southern football, he told the boys, "is getting better and better, although the teams down here are still handicapped by trying to round into condition early in the season on account of the hot weather. It is usually late October before most of the Southern teams are really in shape for a big game, and more often it is November.

"It seems to me it would be a fine idea if Southern teams could add on an extra month and schedule games through December. Naturally a December schedule would not synchronize with schedules of other teams in other sections, but the Southern teams might play their most important sectional contests in that extra month.

"From indications right now, it looks like Georgia Tech is far and away the foremost team in the South this season. Tech is returning virtually her entire team, with plenty of reserves. However, I am looking for Alabama to spring a big surprise. In addition, Tennessee is going to be practically as strong as last year. You can always count on Vanderbilt to be in the running, too. Chuck Collins at North Carolina seems to have a good crop of material."

FANS COMPARE STIRBLING AND SHARKEY FORM

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 14.—Fight fans who saw Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling step through spirited workouts yesterday, in preparations for their fight February 27, were able to compare the condition of the pair for the first time today.

The Boston heavyweight worked nine rounds at his training camp at the Miami Beach Kennel club while the Georgian stepped through a seven round workout in an abandoned swimming tank.

Of the two, Sharkey appeared the more impressive. His work attracted the larger crowd. He boxed with Johnny Grosso, Paul Hoffman and Pat McCarthy while Stribling was working against Rush Heise, Tony Fuente, Jeff Carroll and Johnny Bell.

Sharkey and Grosso mixed with a will. Sharkey having the better of it throughout the one round they boxed. Grosso, however, reached Jack with both hands several times. The problem of a referee is expected to be settled tomorrow when Jack Dempsey meets "Pa" Stribling and Johnny Buckley. Sharkey's manager, again, Dempsey yesterday gave each a list of possible arbiters with instructions to reach an agreement by Friday.

SCHMELING THREATENS TO QUIT RING

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The boxing world today awaited the outcome of Max Schmeling's threat to quit the quest for the heavyweight title unless freed from the contract which binds him to Arthur Bulow, his German manager.

been the sensation of the last few weeks, was ordered by the New York state boxing commission to retain Bulow. He has been trying to dispose of his fellow countryman in favor of Joe Jacobs, American manager, who now owns a part interest in his contract.

The commission upheld its former resolution recognizing Bulow as Schmeling's manager and by that ruling no contract for Schmeling will be recognized in New York state unless it bears Bulow's signature.

In a statement Schmeling attacked Bulow on the grounds that he was incompetent and not fitted to handle his affairs.

The irrigable area in 1927 of the projects built by the government was 1,958,810 acres, an increase of 112,369 over that of 1926.

Two MORE far-reaching modern developments ANNOUNCED BY GENERAL MOTORS TRUCKS

STRAIGHT RATING

THIS sane, modern method takes equal place and rank with the important "EXTRA VALUE instead of EXCESS ALLOWANCES" policy.

It removes vagueness and risky guesswork. For any GENERAL MOTORS TRUCK, the maximum allowable total gross weight is given and guaranteed. Exact weight of chassis is given, and of any type of body. These, subtracted from the maximum allowable gross weight plainly and clearly give real pay-load capacity—the capacity which will be most efficiently, therefore most economically, handled by any model equipped with any typebody. You don't take a chance on over loading; on nullifying your guarantee, running up maintenance costs, or shortening the truck's life. You don't buy and operate more "capacity" than you need. Knowing just what you need you get it exactly.

WALLACE BERRY transport pilot No. 3298, now appearing in "Tong War" tells how the movie stars are guarding their throats with OLD GOLDS.

Why not a cough in a carload?

OLD GOLD Cigarettes are blended from HEART-LEAF tobacco, the finest Nature grows... Selected for silkiness and ripeness from the heart of the tobacco plant... Aged and mellowed extra long in a temperature of mid-July sunshine to insure that honey-like smoothness.

On your Radio OLD GOLD PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR
Paul Whiteman, King of Jazz, and his complete orchestra, broadcasts the OLD GOLD hour every Tuesday from 9 to 10 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over entire network of Columbia Broadcasting System.

"A year or so ago, Hollywood didn't think much about its vocal chords or its voices. We were all in the silent drama then.

"But the coming of the 'Talkies' has changed things. Lovely stars, leading men, 'heavies' and ingenues are guarding their throats with zealous care... and smoking OLD GOLDS.

"It didn't need the 'Talkies' to win me to OLD GOLDS. I've been smoking them ever since they came to Hollywood, two years ago. But it's an added satisfaction to know they are kind to the voice, when the voice has assumed a new importance!"

OFFICIALS OF AUXILIARY AT ORANGE MEET

ORANGE, Feb. 13.—A number of state and district officers were present at the meeting of the county council of the American Legion auxiliary in the Legion clubhouse here this week. About 100 women were present at the noon luncheon which was served by the hostess auxiliary.

A brief summary of the high lights of the national convention at Indianapolis was given by the state president, Mrs. Alice Gill, of San Francisco. Mrs. Gill spoke of the place held by Abraham Lincoln in the heart of Americans.

Mrs. Gill stated that the national executive committee had come to a decision to close the homes in which half orphans of the world's war had been cared for. The homes at Burbank and Oakland had been closed. Mrs. Gill said, and the services donated by the various units had been sold.

The decision to close the homes, the speaker said, was due to a desire to place the children with their

Mrs. Ethel Flynn, state secretary of the Legion Auxiliary explained the works of the department. She said that last year there were but 1133 paid up members in the state. This year, on the same date there were over 5000 paid up memberships. At the present time the membership is 18,034 and there is every indication that the quota of 29,000 members will be reached by April 1, Mrs. Flynn said.

Reports of the president of the units of the county were given and past and future activities outlined. Mrs. Florence Smith, of Anaheim, president of the county organization, was in charge of the meeting.

A. V. auxiliary, Mrs. Gertrude Bailey, committee-woman of the 11th district and Mrs. Fannie Reeves, of Santa Ana, member of the board for the children's welfare homes.

AGED MAN SAID TO HAVE SHOT AT WIFE; HELD

Samuel Huff, 80, Civil war veteran, residing near Anaheim, this afternoon was in the Orange County hospital for observation, following an alleged altercation with members of his family, during which he is asserted to have fired a rifle at his wife.

He was taken into custody by F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff.

According to Howard, during a family argument the man picked up a chair and hurled it at his daughter, the chair striking the wall. His son, who also was in the house at the time, then grappled with him and he went out into the yard, returning with a 44-70 rifle, it is said. The son saw his father's purpose and shoved his mother through the door just as the gun was fired. Howard said. The bullet pierced the door, glanced about the room and splinters from the floor struck Mrs. Huff in the foot, it was said. She was not badly hurt.

MISS DEAN MAY ATTEND LEGION MEET TONIGHT

Priscilla Dean and her husband, Lieutenant Leslie Arnold, of the "Around the World Flyers," may be honored guests at the meeting of the American Legion at 6:30 p. m. today. Lieutenant Arnold is an honorary member of several Legion posts throughout the country.

The invitation to Miss Dean and Lieutenant Arnold was extended by Elmer Schaniel, prominent Legionnaire, and clerk of department two of the superior court here. Miss Dean is defendant in a lawsuit being tried in that court.

She and her husband will find the atmosphere of the dinner meeting particularly appropriate if they attend, inasmuch as the Yost Broadway theater is co-operating in presentation of the entertainment. Members of the cast in the Broadway "Melody Mansion" revue will appear on the program while Les Shrader and his stage band from the Broadway theater, will entertain.

Only the possibility of a late rehearsal at Hollywood will keep Miss Dean and Lieutenant Arnold from attending, she said. She was attempting this afternoon to learn whether a night rehearsal will be held.

Sees Japanese As American Citizens In 20 Years

BREAKFASTERS HEAR TALK BY DR. R. H. AKAGI

Within 20 years American born Japanese will be accorded the right of American citizenship, according to prediction made by Dr. R. H. Akagi, general secretary of the Japanese Student Association of North America, in an address at the meeting this morning of the Santa Ana Breakfast club.

Dr. Akagi has spoken a number of times in Santa Ana on problems in which his race is involved, and this morning he discussed the situation of Japanese of Japanese ancestry residing in the United States being handicapped by the attitude of the American people. He asserted that American born Japs are as loyal to American institutions, ideals and principles as are Americans, and he made a plea for greater consideration for his fellow countrymen. Pointing out that many of the American born Japs are attending schools and colleges to equip themselves for the battle of life, he said that when they have completed their schooling they are faced with a stone wall when they seek employment.

Application of an American born Jap to a Japanese for employment, he says, is met with the statement that he cannot speak the Japanese language fluently, and application to an American for a position is met with the declaration that he is a Japanese and that he should seek employment with his own countrymen. He pointed out that virtually the same situation exists as to social life, and to some extent in the matter of church affiliation—Japs schooled and raised in American atmosphere being forced to limit their social and church activities to their own race and being forced to endure the customs and practices of these branches of life as taught and observed in Japan.

Fred Schweitzer was program chairman and introduced Hubert Dale and Phil Hood in flute and piano solos as the special musical offering on the program. Hood gave two flute solos, accompanied by Master Dale, and the latter played a piano solo.

Initiation of new members will be one of the features of the meeting next Thursday morning, according to President Guy Gilbert.

Eleven new members were accepted this morning, the list including B. J. Bell, A. J. Ralph, Carlyle Dennis, C. F. Skirvin, W. C. Dubor, M. A. White, Dr. M. P. Baker, C. G. Dowds, D. L. Montanna, Dr. F. H. Patterson and R. K. Eastman.

Rosita and Juanita Vigore has attracted attention of nationally prominent theatrical people.

The entire gamut of human emotions is run as the scenes unfold before the audience. Native Hopi Indians dance their tribal dances, while children play about the stage as naturally as at home, and grown ups applaud and carry on their little personal contacts as if the whole scene was again being relived during the colorful days of the dons, when the plodding padres wended their way from mission to mission, seeking to stimulate the seeds of the new civilization they had planted.

Under the direction of Florence Jepperson Madsen, loaned to the Mission play this year by the University of Utah, the musical numbers are a distinct triumph. Solos, male quartet and chorus have been stimulated to a class of work declared to be of a calibre equal to any group of artists on the American stage. The dancing of Eva

HORACE MANN PUPIL LIVING IN SANTA ANA

The only living student of Horace Mann, founder of the American public school system, was discovered today in Santa Ana. Although Capt. J. H. Hall, of the Sunset club, has lived in this city almost 52 years, it was not generally known until today that he had been a student of the great educator.

None of the students who studied with Captain Hall under Horace Mann at Antioch college, Ohio, in 1856, are living today so far as he knows and he probably is one of few living people who can recall the man whose principles have been a guiding influence on education in this country for generations.

Mann was president of Antioch college at that time. He was well along in years, but a wonderful old man, Captain Hall recalled.

"He gave me an examination in Mexican history, I remember. He went rather deeply into the subject and when he found I was well informed on Mexican history, he didn't hesitate to let it be known," Captain Hall related with a smile.

Captain Hall's father was a cousin of Horace Mann and wanted his son to finish college.

"But I begged off," the Civil war veteran remarked, pointing out that he has heard the same thing sometimes is done by youth of today. Perhaps there was a patriotic reason for his leaving school, however, for when the Civil war came, Captain Hall enlisted.

"My father was a lawyer. And I would have been one, too, but for the war," he said.

Although he was in many hot engagements, in which many of his comrades fell at his feet or were wounded, Captain Hall escaped, as though by a miracle.

He is now in his 51st year and feels better than he did 30 years ago, he said contentedly. Not long ago he was examined by a physician who told him that, barring accidents, he should live to be 125.

Captain Hall was county auditor of Orange county for 16 years, between 1891 and 1907. He came here in April, 1877, buying a ranch near Orange, which he operated until he became auditor. Forty-two years ago he was commander of the G. A. R. post at Orange.

Twice he voted for Abraham Lincoln for president and his father was on the same ticket on which Lincoln first was chosen president of the United States.

EBELL SOCIETY GIVES UP PLAN FOR LECTURES

Announcement made today by the Ebell Society of Santa Ana valley, that the international artist series, one of the anticipated entertainment events of the late winter season, would be discontinued this year, although definite plans for its presentation had been made, came as no surprise to members of the society, who were aware that their president, Mrs. F. E. Coulter, and her international artist series committee had been considering the matter of abandoning the plans for this year.

The matter has been under consideration for some time, while the committee awaited definite word from Will Rogers, popular lecturer, writer and comedian, who was to have been one of the star attractions of the course. It is well known in theatrical circles that Rogers came to the aid of his life-long friend, Fred Stone, when the latter was unable to take his place in a New York dramatic production in which he was co-starred with his daughter, Miss Dorothy Stone. Rogers took Stone's place in the production, which is still running in New York, cancelling all his lecture engagements of the early winter and postponing decision on the later engagements until it was seen whether Stone would be able to resume his work.

On the committee with Miss Minter are Mrs. Samuel W. Nau, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales, Mrs. W. H. Harrison, Mrs. Cood Adams and Mrs. Robert G. Tuthill. In announcing their change in plan, the women declared that they expected to bring Mr. Rogers to Santa Ana at some future date, and that plans were already well under way to present an entertaining series next year.

Weddings
HouseholdSuccessful Surprise
Is Compliment to Newly-weds

In accordance with a happy plan evolved by a little group of Santa Ana chapter O.E.S. members, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jackson were last night made honor guests in their own home, much to their amusement, but also to their very complete enjoyment.

Knowing that their hosts might have other plans for the evening, the conspirators delegated two of their number, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Overton, to call in informal manner at the Jackson home, 719 West Fourth street, in order to make certain that they would not arrive to find a darkened house. The plan worked beautifully, and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson completely by surprise.

Card tables were soon placed, and bridge was played during a merry evening, with an occasional pause for dancing, when particularly inviting music was heard over the radio. One interval of dancing was to music broadcast by an orchestra in Cincinnati, O. Such informal bridge playing gave Mrs. Walter Wright an opportunity for declaring that the prize should go to the hosts rather than to the couple making high score, and to Mr. and Mrs. Jackson was presented a handsome pillow in rose silk with applied flowers in pastel tones. The gift, like the party, was in compliment to their marriage in early January, when Mrs. Jackson was formerly Mrs. Mae Foster, a prominent member of Santa Ana chapter.

As the final friendly gesture of the evening, the guests produced delicious cake which was served with hot coffee. In the party in addition to the complimented hosts, were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wright, worthy patron and worthy matron of Santa Ana chapter, and Mrs. James T. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. George Shippe, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Overton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith, Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Cleland, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Roberts, Mrs. Mary Shawgo, Mrs. Amelia Prather, Mrs. Hugh Park, Mrs. Maude Swarthout, Mrs. Lillian Dawson and Mrs. Amanda Holmes.

Special guest honors also await two Torosa members, Mrs. Fannie M. Lacy, past president of the Rebekah assembly and past trustee of the Orphans' home at Gilroy, and Mrs. Amelia Prather, warden of the Rebekah assembly.

Mrs. Prather, as an officer of the state organization, will conduct a district meeting and school of instruction in Los Angeles on Wednesday, February 20, and on the following day will conduct a similar school at Angeles Mesa. Girl Reserves Hear of Interesting Customs
Of Hopi Indians

The interesting manner in which Indians on the Hopi reservation live today was told by Mr. William B. Henby, assistant curator at the Southwest museum in Los Angeles, last night when she addressed the Santa Ana Girl Reserves, who met for a pot luck supper at the Y. hut at the high school.

Mrs. Henby described the wedding costume of the Indian women of that reservation and illustrated her talk by displaying one of the dresses. She also displayed a necklace, an important part of the wedding costume.

The government schools for Indians were discussed and Mrs. Henby explained how students at these schools are leased out to work in private homes.

The entertaining address followed a pot luck supper and an impromptu program arranged by the Girl Reserves under the direction of Miss Dorothy Cartwright, general secretary.

Forty girls were present for the affair.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

First Presbyterian

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church departed from its usual routine when members met for the monthly meeting Wednesday at the church.

A devotional service was led by Mr. E. P. Stafford. Reports of the year's work were given by the secretaries, showing that much construction work has been accomplished by the society in the past year.

Election of officers for the ensuing year was held. Mrs. H. W. Lewis was elected president with a splendid corps of officers to assist her.

The members and their guests adjourned to the dining room where a bountiful dinner was enjoyed. At 7:30 o'clock all assembled in the main auditorium of the church to hear the address of Sir William J. Wanless who has spent 33 years as medical missionary in India. During his residence in that country Dr. Wanless has witnessed great political changes, the most prominent being a breaking down of the caste system. High praise was given the British government for its beneficent rule.

Improvements in the way of roads, railroads and irrigation systems, have practically wiped out the danger of extensive famine which was formerly a great menace.

Many friends of Mrs. James H. Speer, who several years ago was musical director of the church, were happy to hear her voice in two sacred solos.

Delta Alpha

The Delta Alpha Sunday school class of the First Methodist Episcopal church was delightfully entertained Tuesday evening by Mrs. Ivy Olson and Miss Cora Craig at the home of Mrs. L. M. Hamilton at 920 West Fifth street, mother of Mrs. Olson.

CHURCH WOMEN SOCIETY THE HOME WEDDINGS CLUBS FRATERNAL FASHIONS HOUSEHOLD

The WOMAN'S DAY-ALLENE SUMNER

The wish that one were a man, if one is a woman, and the wish that one were a woman, if one is a man, are perhaps about as frequent as any human wishes. It's not often, though, that a human being can really try it out, being first a man and then a woman, as did Orlando, hero and heroine of the book by the same title by Virginia Woolf.

Some of the amusing comparisons of Orlando on the two states are interesting: "It is a strange fact, but a true one that up to this moment she had hardly given her sex a thought. It was not until she felt the coil of skirts about her legs and the captain offered, with the greatest politeness, to have an awning spread for her on deck that she realized with a start, the penalties and privileges of her position."

A Lazy Life.

"Lord," she thought, "this is a pleasant, lazy way of life, to be sure. But," she thought, giving her legs a kick, "these skirts are playthings to have about one's heels. Yet the stuff (flowed paduaso) is the loveliest in the world. Never have I seen my own skin (here she laid her hand on her knee, look to such advantage as now. Could I, however, leap overboard and swim in clothes like these? No! Therefore, I should have to trust to the protection of a bluejacket. Do I object to that? Now do I? she wondered, here encountering the first knot in the smooth skein of her argument."

DEMANDS OF MEN

Then Orlando begins reflecting upon what she, as a man, demanded in women, and is appalled at the job before her if she cares to please men.

"Upon which, a gloom fell over her. Candid by nature, and ever to all kinds of equivocation, to tell lies bored her. It seemed to her a roundabout way of going to work. Yet, she reflected, the flowered paduaso—the pleasure of being rescued by a blue-jacket—if these were only to be obtained by roundabout ways, roundabout one must go, she supposed. She remembered how, as a young man, she had insisted that women must be obedient, chaste, scented. 'I shall have to pay in my own person for those desires,' she reflected; 'for women are not (judging by my own short experience of the sex) obedient, chaste, scented, and exquisitely appraised by nature. They can only attain these graces, without which they may enjoy none of the delights of life, by the most tedious discipline. There's the hair-dressing, she thought, 'that alone will take an hour of my morning; there's the looking in the looking-glass, another hour; there's staying and lacing; there's washing and powdering; there's changing from silk to lace and from lace to paduaso; and there's being chaste year in and year out.'"

THE MALE PARADOX

Then Orlando who now is a woman, and who has been a man, muses on the male sex.

"She was horrified to perceive how low an opinion she was forming of the other sex, the manly, to which it had once been her pride to belong. 'To fall from

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

You May Be No Venus, But—

A movie-scandal columnist utters her dictum on figures and the lines and curves thereof. She says that unless the Creator was good to you at birth you are just out of luck. That may be true up to a certain point—everyone can't be a Venus de Milo—but I have yet to see a normally healthy woman who has not enough good points to offset the bad ones if she cares to give the matter her attention.

Posture, the use of some type of foundation garment properly fitted, the right height of heel, simple lines in dresses, and simple but immaculate accessories all lend their aid to establishing in your mind RESPECT for the body you have clothed appropriately. When one is happy and at ease the body unconsciously falls into the same graceful attitude.

For straight shoulders and head position try this: Hang a small weight on the end of a ribbon, tie it loosely around the throat and swing the weight so that it hangs directly down the back.

Adjust weight and tightness of ribbon so that the pressure is not too noticeable and wear it while doing the morning's work. The habit of standing erect will soon be established and half the battle is over.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Deviled Crab

2 cups crab meat
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup rich milk
Few grains of cayenne
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 egg yolks
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2-3 cup buttered crumbs
6 slices of lemon

Don't take a look at this long list of ingredients and then pass up the recipe. Most of the items called for are seasonings. Bake the crab in individual remakes or get a dozen scallop shells—obtainable in the kitchen department of any big store for just a few cents.

While the milk is heating melt the butter and blend with the flour, stir in the milk and cook until the sauce thickens. Put the mustard, pepper and Worcestershire sauce together, add a teaspoon of water and stir smooth.

Add to the sauce and finally add the lemon juice, the beaten egg yolks and crab meat and cook gently for 3 minutes—it should be cooked in a double boiler.

Put the mixture in shells or ramekins and cover the top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a hot oven (450 F.) for 10 minutes. Just before serving place a slice of lemon on each portion and garnish with a mayonnaise, she thought, 'because you see a woman's ankles; to dress up like a Guy Fawkes and parade the streets, so that women may praise you; to deny a woman teaching lest she may laugh at you; to be the slave of the frailest chit in petticoats, and yet to go about as if you were the Lords of creation—Heavens! she thought, 'what fools they make of us—what fools we are!'

The Bidding: South bids three spades and all pass.

Deciding the Play: West leads 2 of clubs and opponents win the first trick. The second club trick is won by Declarer with 2 of spades. How should Declarer plan to make game?

The Error: Declarer leads Ace, King, Queen, Jack of spades, retaining one trump in his hand, and then plays the heart suit and makes three tricks in hearts.

The Correct Method: Declarer plays all his spades to compel a heart discard and then the heart tricks will thus be made. The novice usually plays all the trumps but one and then switches to another suit trusting to chance that he may establish the suit.

The Principle: To squeeze in order to compel a discard that will establish a suit, boldly play every trump.

Disturbed Sleep Is Nature's Signal "Danger Ahead"

Mrs. G. W. Bushong, Bloomington, Ill., says, "Come or write to 1012 S. East Street and I will tell you my full experience with Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula). Often was disturbed 20 times a night." It acts on bladder as epsom salts do on bowels. Drives out foreign deposits and lessens excessive acidity. This relieves the irritation that causes getting up nights. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores, Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio or locally at Santa Ana Drug Co.—Adv.

REGINALD DENNY IN NEW "ALL-TALKIE"

REGINALD DENNY

"Red Hot Speed," that latest entertaining vehicle for Reginald Denny opened today at the Yost Broadway theater with a special matinee this afternoon. It is the popular star's first presentation in the talking pictures.

and the hilarious and dramatic screen sequences are interspersed with sound effects, and snappy dialogue.

The fact that Denny was, for a number of years, extremely popular in musical comedy and on the dramatic stage, assures a well modulated and pleasing performance on his part in talking pictures. Advance reports concerning this picture indicate that he has proved to be an ideal talking picture star, with voice appeal and whimsical diction.

Allice Day plays opposite the star and the cast also includes Fritz Ridgeway, Charles Boyer, Thomas Ricketts, De Witt Jennings and Hector V. Sarno.

Stage entertainment offered with "Red Hot Speed" includes Jack Russell and his revue, and other special features including the Les Shrader band.

WEST END

Owls and frogs take part in the First National mystery picture, "The Haunted House," now showing at the West End theater. It is true that they have little acting to do, but they certainly add to the eerie effect and aid in putting the minds of the audience into sympathy with the strange happenings on the silver screen.

In the actual cast of characters are such favorites as Chester Conklin, Theima Todd, Montagu Love, Larry Kent, Eve Southern, Flora Finch, Barbara Bedford, William V. Mong, and others equally well known.

Adding to the entertainment interest is the remarkable travel film, "Adventures on Land and Sea," by Major Hammond, a world

STORY BY H. COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

"I still don't know what makes this go," said Clowney. "First it's fast, then slow. If it's a magic basket it's the first one I have seen." Just then they felt the basket swerve. "Oh, look, we're going round a curve," yelled Carpy. "We are tipping. It is speed that makes us lean."

The basket tipped up on its side, and almost spoiled their dandy ride, for in about a minute it went flopping up-side-down. The whole bunch spilled out on the ice, and didn't think that very nice. Poor Clowney sprawled upon his head, a funny looking clown.

Then Scouty shouted loudly. "Hey! Don't let that basket get away. Somebody grab a hold of it until we climb back in." One Trouble Tot said, "We will do the thing that you have told us to." They held the basket very tight, which made the Tinsies grin.

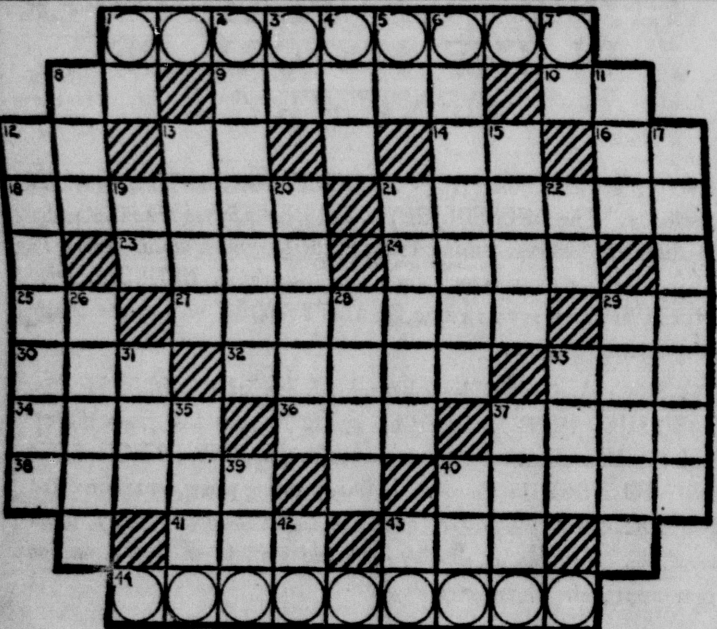

A moment more and they were all no worse off for their sudden fall. The basket with its heavy load was skimming on once more. "Oh, my," cried Coppy. "This is class. The ice is just as smooth as glass. I only wish that we all knew just where we're heading for."

"Why worry?" Scouty promptly said. "As long as we move on ahead, we're bound to take things easy and enjoy this wondrous trip." The basket then slowed down a bit. They wondered what was ailing it. And then it stopped, and Carpy cried, "We're going to take a dip."

"The ice is melting. Look out there." And what they saw gave them a scare. The ice was surely cracking. They could hear it creak and clink. Then Clowney jumped up with a scream. "Said he, 'We're floating in the stream.'"

Lufbery Request For Probation Is Under Advisement

Superior Judge James L. Allen took under advisement today the question of granting probation to Robert L. Lufbery, 45, who has pleaded guilty to an extortion charge based on threat letters written to prominent Orange county and Long Beach citizens.

Lufbery's hearing took place in Judge Allen's court today and a number of witnesses testified to his character. They were unanimous in the opinion that, if probation were granted, Lufbery would make good. They believed, they said, that his experience has been a lesson to him.

Examination of witnesses was conducted by Deputy District Attorney Sam L. Collins, with whom District Attorney Z. B. West Jr. collaborated. John Clarkson, appointed by the court, appeared for Lufbery.

L. A. PRODUCE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—(UP)—There was a moderate volume of trade on the local market this morning. Supplies of many commodities are somewhat lighter than in the past and values have been quite unevenly affected.

Apples from Watsonville, averaged slightly better at yesterday's auction, when Newtowna sold at 57 a box. Brussels sprouts from the same section were in larger supply today and values declined to 12a a pound for the best.

Local bunched vegetables had a moderate demand at the following prices: beets 30¢/50¢; carrots 25¢/30¢; radishes 15¢/25¢; turnips 20¢/35¢ and spinach 17¢/20¢.

Nearly all cabbage sold mostly at $1.25/$1.50 a crate.

Avocados were firm. Stephen's 15, Futures, Pickles and Lyons varieties, ranging generally 2¢/30¢ a pound, with a few best as high as 35¢.

Imperial Valley grapes were dull and sold unchanged from yesterday's levels.

The tomato market is rather dull and the bulk of the lug stock was offered today.

Potatoes were very slow; no sales were reported on northern California. Idaho Russets moved at $1.30/$1.35 a hundred.

Local oranges sold firm at $2.25/$2.50. Local lemons sold at $2.00/$2.25. Local limes sold at $1.75/$2.00.

L. A. STOCKS
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Fractional losses were general on both curio and exchange today.

Union Oil Rights on Feb. 15 made cash sales necessary on both issues, forcing them to new lows as stockholders unloaded excess shares.

In the industrial class, Finco Derick New sold 210 from an open at 46 1/4. Hydraulic Brakes opened up 1 at 64 but slid to 63 1/2 with 250 sold.

Rio Grande New led the oils with 2100 turnover which hoisted the price to 27 from an open at 26 1/2.

Union Common opened at 48 1/2 but hit a new low at 46 1/2 in the first hour of trading.

At the close wheat was 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 cents higher, corn was 1/4 to 1/2 cents higher and oats were 1/4 to 1/2 cents lower. Provisions were 1/4 to 1/2 cents higher.

There was an air of caution about wheat tradings.

Corn felt pressure early and prices were lower until buying by country buyers at market back on basis about mid-session.

Oats held about steady through the day of a quiet and featureless session.

Cash markets were: wheat unchanged, corn unchanged, 1/2 cent lower and oats unchanged.

NEW YORK CURB
By Richard L. Gridley
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—(UP)—Fears that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York directors might take adverse action on the credit situation at their meeting after the close of the market tonight caused great unsettlement in curb market trading today.

Many traders were desirous of being out of the market pending more definite action by the Federal Reserve Bank, and a steady stream of stocks poured into the market.

But selling did not get out of hand and some better feeling developed in the afternoon trading under the influence of relatively comfortable conditions.

Sharp reactions were forced in Electric Bond and Share Securities, Electric Investors Gas American and Foreign Power warrants and Bohn Aluminum and Brass.

EVENING SALUTATION

I like the man who goes
Not slogging to the common tasks of life,
But twines a flower round his tools of trade;
Who boasts not what he does, not what he knows;
Who brings no sword but Love to conquer strife,
And kind of self, of nothing is afraid.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTS WISELY

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday passed the following resolution:

"RESOLVED, that the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce protest against the enactment of any air legislation, having for its purpose a separate State Department for aviation, or the delegation to any State Agency of a Bureau, of a separate Department for the licensing and inspection of air craft and air men; or any regulatory measure that would be derogative to the progress and development of aviation in California, the leading aviation state in the union.

"And be it further resolved, that the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce recommend the adoption, for state regulation, the 'Pierotti' Bill or a similar bill that adopts the Federal Air Commerce Act of 1926."

This resolution was particularly directed against a measure known as the Neilson Bill introduced by Mr. Neilson on January 10, 1929, which is calculated to seriously handicap the development of aviation in the state of California.

At the present time all licensed aviators in California, as in other states, and all who have brought their airports within the provisions of the law so as to entitle them to recognize in teaching students preparatory to the issuance of license, are under a federal government regulation which is very adequate and complete, except for the fact that it does not apply to those who confine their activities to the state of California. Most of the proprietors of airports, and aviators, however, are working under the operation of this federal law; our own local airport—Eddie Martin's Airport, along with the others.

The men who are interested in aviation, and who have been spending time and money in its development, desire to see it wisely regulated, and to that end are anxious that the provisions of the federal law be adopted and applied to aviation within the state. There are those, however, who through lack of knowledge and possible anxiety to increase the revenue of the state, have introduced and urged legislation that would place a handicap upon the development of aviation in California.

This bill would place aviation under the Department of Motor Vehicles, and proposes restrictions that in some cases are serious and one of which may be unconstitutional.

This particular act would increase the cost of this industry by causing it to pay a tax for gasoline, from which it is now exempt. The airplanes do not use the highways. There is no wear and tear by them upon the road, and the purpose of the gasoline tax is primarily for use in the building of highways, and it is taken from the people who use them. Such added expense upon this new industry is not only absurd but it is adding a burden to an enterprise which would need rather a subsidy than a tax as far as California is concerned.

Again, a license could be taken away under this act, at the caprice of the officer in charge, and could not be regained without trial, and the aviator would be forced to post an amount for the costs before he could have his trial.

It is entirely possible, under the provisions of such an act, that the ones who would be placed in charge would not be expert airmen themselves and would know nothing about the conditions of aviation.

Another measure which would bring the federal law into operation and control all air men in California, is prepared and urged primarily by those who are interested in the development of aviation. It provides in one of its sections that it shall be unlawful for any person to navigate an aircraft in the state of California unless it is licensed and registered by the Department of Commerce in the United States. This would immediately bring the federal law into operation and control over flyers in California.

In view of the fact that this federal law is complete in its detail, and makes the regulations uniform throughout the country, we believe the Chamber of Commerce very wise in passing the above resolution. We have enough difficulty with the lack of uniformity in laws in respect to other things in our various states. Airplanes are more and more interstate carriers. Uniform federal law should control them. Any state handicaps itself that enacts local and peculiar legislation making certain acts criminal that are not criminal in other states.

The federal government is developing aviation itself. It has men who are making intensive studies of every detail of it. Whatever legislation is necessary for further regulation will undoubtedly be promptly enacted, and if, after aviation is developed as it certainly will be in California, there are any conditions peculiar to this state in which this state differs from any and all other states, so that certain state legislation is needed, it can then be enacted. But until then let us give aviation the largest opportunity for development, and with the least vexation from handicaps either through legislation or unwise administration of the law.

An army of women co-operated to clean up the streets of Norfolk, Va. Next thing you know they'll be putting ash-trays on convenient corners.

SUMMER WHITE HOUSE

President Coolidge yesterday selected a site for the summer White House. It is Mount Weather, Virginia.

He had only 18 days left. Why couldn't he have allowed the man who will occupy the summer house to select it? There were probably many contending applications for it, and it is possible that Mr. Hoover tipped him off to make his selection so that Herbert could avoid one more little difficult decision.

THE WORLD SHIVERS

We have imagined that we have been suffering here in Southern California from a cold spell. That is, it has been a little cooler nights than it is customarily at this time of year. There has had to be a little more smudge than usual. We have worn our top coats a little bit more than usual, but there has been no serious inconvenience and no great damage done.

It has not been so awfully serious in eastern and northern sections of our own country. The weather has been severe and seems to be lingering longer in some sections than is wont. But fuel and food have been plenty, and whatever suffering there has been, has been that of isolated cases.

But from great sections of Europe the extreme cold, which has been greater than that known for any year for possibly 200, the news comes of great suffering, privation, and even death due to lack of food and lack of fuel. The only sections which have not been stricken with the most severe weather have been the far south, Spain, Italy, and part of the Balkans; and in the north, parts of Norway and Sweden.

The extraordinary weather making greater demands upon coal supplies, and the difficulties due to ice and snow tying up transportation and traffic, and hence the food supplies, have thrown the whole working system of some of these countries out of joint. It is remarkable how quickly our system breaks down when it meets abnormal conditions. The temperature of the Gulf Stream rises a few degrees, atmospheric pressure changes, the temperature rises in the north, falls in the south, and thousands of people freeze and starve to death.

After all of our investigation and contributions by science, we are unable to adjust ourselves to any rapid changes by nature. We, in this favored clime, can count ourselves exceedingly fortunate in the midst of this distress. This gives to us an opportunity to be helpful to other sections and the responsibility to respond.

Home will always be an institution. There has to be some place where people can pick up chicken in their fingers.

STEPPING LIVELY

A motorist in San Francisco was fined one dollar for parking near a fire hydrant. He claimed that the fire plug was not there when he parked his car, but it was there when he returned. Just how long he was gone the dispatches do not say.

This does not indicate such speedy work, however, as we recall a Chicago man declaring that one morning he passed a vacant lot on which two men were negotiating, one for the purchase and the other for the sale of the lot. The same evening, he said, when he returned he found a family being expelled from a home, built on the premises, for non-payment of rent.

This is a fast moving world and we are in the "movingest" part of it.

Illustrating the Record

Christian Science Monitor

It was probably just as well that the idea of including cartoons in the Congressional Record was recently nipped. The representative who asked leave to have his speech thus illustrated was not encouraged. The Record will continue on occasion to quote such literature, classic or modern, as may be held to illuminate, like a borrowed candle, the congressional speech; but it will not, so to speak, quote a cartoon. Thus the publication will remain in that category in which words suffice without pictorial interpretation. "Everybody," once said Macaulay, "who has the least sensibility or imagination derives a certain pleasure from pictures"; but this pleasure is not to be for the readers of the Congressional Record. The inclusion of one cartoon would no doubt have been followed by others. Eventually it appears possible that valuable time would have been lost to the conduct of national business while individual congressmen were searching the newspapers and magazines for cartoons that would properly illustrate their speeches.

The episode calls attention to the multiplicity of cartoons, and stirs curiosity as to their influence on the general thought. Does the average cartoon persuade opinion—or merely reflect it? With so many cartoonists busy at the making of so many cartoons it would be humanly surprising if the average cartoon did not on occasion fall short of its possibilities. Individual cartoonists, masters of their craft, have often made converts to an idea by pictorial reiteration of it. It is recognized that individual cartoonists have been genuine and penetrating critics of their time, and such criticism as they have been responsible for no doubt sooner or later influences general thought. It is the paradox of the cartoon that it is often at once serious and comic; and such is often the paradox of the Congressional Record.

Cordurees Ready to Fight to Last
Smear

San Francisco Chronicle

Big news from Morgan Hill. The issue raised there may spread throughout the Nation. Has American youth the right to follow the dictates of conscience and the urge of higher learning, or must it submit to tyranny and wash its cords?

Why white cords, except as a background for transmission grease, the sign manual of the student motorist? Those teachers and parents who keep yapping about dirty cords just don't understand. Of course, cords should be washed, but not until they are thoroughly colored. As long as one light spot remains to proclaim the original shade the coloring must go on without let or hindrance.

Not only high schools are ready to stand up for this principle, but every college campus will fly to its defense. The principle is, as any sophomore will tell you, the "sine qua non" of the cordurees, and some of them know that isn't the name of a soap powder.

San Joaquin Airports

Oakland Tribune

California's crop of airports is increasing in yield and number of plants. Not to be outdone by other sections is the San Joaquin which, within a few weeks, has made two notable contributions to the cause of aeronautics.

At Fresno a field was given the municipality by a public-spirited citizen and a great port is to be developed. The other day the City Council of Stockton passed to print an ordinance giving the city ownership of a local airport including 88 acres of land.

The Stockton airport, say Government officials who have inspected it, has chance to become one of the outstanding ones on the coast.

"What Are You Goin' To Do 'Bout It?"

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

THERE'S A GOOD TIME COMING

Milk will soon be delivered in noiseless paper containers.

I am hardly so sure that I like innovations—
One is used to the things of an earlier day—
But I never shall miss the tintinnabulations
Which the milk bottles made at the dawning of day.
For rather more years than I quite care to number,
Clear back to the time of the monies and group,
I've been rudely and ruthlessly awakened from slumber
By the rattle of milk bottles down on the stoop.

The clashing of bottles,
The crashing of bottles,
The smashing of bottles,
Down there on the stoop!
Especially now, when insomnia holds me
In its demon embrace till along about four,
I know that when sleep in its mantle enfolds me
Those confounded bottles will rattle once more.
And as well might an elderly person endeavor
To doze through the noise of a cavalry troop.
And so I'll rejoice when they banish forever
Those phials of malignity down on the stoop.
Those loud clashing bottles,
Those oft smashing bottles,
Those sleep-smashing bottles,
Down there on the stoop!

SUNS

When a larger sun approaches too near a smaller sun, according to astronomers who are wise in such things, the smaller is drawn out of its orbit and its shape is distorted.

So in society when a genius appears its orbit and shape is altered by its presence.

What was such a sun.
His invention of the steam engine disturbed the world and brought about more revolutionary changes than any of the fifteen decisive battles which Cressy has mentioned.

The Industrial Revolution in England was an evidence of the turmoil it created. Modern manufacturing methods with their mass output are still based upon the genius of this man.

Gutenberg, of whom so little is known that it is not sure whether his first name should be written Johann or Henne, was another sun.

His printing press, with improvements, has altered the world in many important respects since the fifteenth century, when it was created. Past knowledge has been made available to all, education put within the grasp of everyone, the average intelligence raised throughout the world, because this man lived. Ideas on the all-important subjects of religion, government, science, have been changed.

Henry Ford, with his cheap and reliable automobile, has similarly altered in many ways society of a generation ago. He has changed the condition of farmers and of country roads. When everyone could afford a car, everyone was interested in good roads.

Rousseau, with his fiery writings on the "Social Contract," and others who spread the doctrine of the rights of man through literature, formed a sun that changed society from top to bottom.

From the ideas of republicanism, which they spread, grew the republican forms of government that circle the globe.

McCormick, when he invented his grain reaper, was another sun.

His machine made the large farm of today possible. It enabled fewer men to provide bread for more people. During the Civil War Edwin M. Stanton said: "The reaper is to the North what slavery is to the South." It aided the march from the farm to the city, whose far-reaching effects are not entirely seen even today.

Pasteur and Koch and the others who discovered vaccination, by prolonging the average life, changed the whole condition of society. The English land-owning system was altered. The father lived longer, the son came into his estate on the average nearer middle age than youth—when he was too old to learn to run it—so he turned it over to an overseer. This became the practice, and it changed the scheme of things. Similar changes came the world over.

These are a few of many whose genius has pulled society from its familiar orbit and changed its complexion.

THE MASS PRODUCTION AGE

It is not accurate to assert, as many European commentators assert, that America is dominantly a mass-production country.

The fact is that it is only here and there, in a few significant administered industries, that the underlying philosophy of mass production and mass distribution is clearly understood and creatively applied.

America is a land of large scale industry, but it is not yet a land of mass production.

The few instances in which the full significance of standardization, mass production, and mass distribution has been worked out to date are little more than laboratory demonstrations of how the thing might be done and what the social effects might be if it were applied everywhere it is applicable.

Many American industries that are supposed to be practicing the principles of mass production are merely perverting them.

Currently popular articles that promise quick profits are picked out for specialized manufacture. Their basic materials are cheapened.

Their design is stripped for economy rather than simplified for utility and beauty.

Factories are geared for their fast production.

Their price is fixed as high as a sizeable traffic will bear. Under the false notion that production costs are lowered thereby, the wages of the workmen who make them are kept as low as custom and trade union pressure will permit.

High pressure sales campaigns are put behind the quality and appeal of the articles themselves do so little toward their sale, and the high pressure sales campaigns put behind them are so expensive that the wastes of selling absorb the savings of mass production.

And it is assumed that this is an authentic application of the principles of standardization, mass production, and mass distribution!

This is, however, but a poor parody of these principles.

Tomorrow I shall try to show what happens when the principle of mass production is really understood and honestly applied. Copyright 1929 McClure Newspaper Syn.

OUR CHILDREN

THE OTHER CHEEK

"That's my cat. I found it."

"Yes, but I lost it."

"You give me it."

"Like fun I will, I'll give you a smack in the jaw," and he did, whereupon the smitten one ran home crying murder for his mother.

"Now just look at that. In the first place it WAS his cat. And in the second, I'm trying to bring him up like a gentleman and this young savage not only steals his cat, but slaps him in the face. You can't live in this neighborhood without having your children beaten to death. It's outrageous. 'Peter-Paul, never mind. You're a better boy than he is. At least YOU didn't strike back.'"

Begging pardon, it would be much better if he had struck back. Little boys of nine and ten have not the adult sense of view about turning the other cheek. An adult will make no impression by turning the other cheek unless the person toward whom it is turned knows very well that the gentle one has the power to slay him if he so much as lays a finger on him. The two little boys are in the semi-twilight stage of civilization and know only strength and force. The smiter will smite as long as a cheek is turned, but he will take to his heels when the other fellow turns a red and threatening face toward him and gestures with his sturdy right fist.

Let the boys of pre-adolescence fight their own battles and instruct the children of the family to hold their own. They are not to start a fight but if once they are in one, see it through. The fate of the child who is helpless in the face of attack is pitiful. The whole clan will fall upon him, peck him raw, and beat him out of the flock.

Have no fear that because Ten-Years comes home with a black eye and a wobbling tooth he is doomed to a life of pugilism. He is having his growth, that's all. The day is coming when he must stand among men and maintain his stand. If he turned the cheek in his boyhood there is no power in him. He must be submissive all his days. And why should that be? He is to submit his will to the will of his group only when he follows a leader of a cause which he upholds.

Most of us are born to follow the leader, but the better followers, those who can put into form and practice the dreams of the leader, were those who first acquired a strong right arm and strength to follow a purpose through to its end in the early days of their childhood. A strong soul does not spring up over night. It grows slowly and in devious ways.

There comes a time when Ten-Years is Twenty-Years. He has his punch concealed now in the neat box nature made for it before he was born. He expresses it in terms other than his fists. But 'twas born of his fists, trained down to team work, evolved into reasoning power and fine intelligence. Teach Ten-Years to take care of himself in a boy's way, and when he grows up he will take care of himself in a man's way. He may even be a soldier of peace, a crusader for world peace. They say such make the best. (Copyright, 1929, The Bell Syn. Inc.)

STERN JUDGE: All right let me have the harrowing details. Your husband has been neglecting you, hasn't he?

SHE: No, sir.

JUDGE: Has he been failing to support you?

SHE: Oh, no—no, sir.

JUDGE: He's been unfaithful, eh?

SHE: No, sir—anything but!

JUDGE: Tell me frankly—do you love anybody else?

SHE: No—I don't.

JUDGE: Then why on earth are you asking for a divorce?

SHE: Because it's the smart thing to do.

JUDGE: My dear, you may have one. No husband in the world can possibly be worthy of a woman as honest as you are.
